Irish City Is Cut Off From Rest of the World by Cordon of Troops.

SOLDIERS PATROL STREETS
Shooting Is Incessant But There Are Few Casualties—Expect More Fighting.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin—Frequent encounters between troops and small bands of Sinn Feiners occurred in the streets of Dublin during the night.

Dublin was virtually cut off from the world today by a cordon of British troops. Somewhere within the city 200 Sinn Fein gunmen who assassinated 14 British officers were in hiding. The troops were surrounding the city while police systematically searched it for the gunmen.

Meanwhile, the city lived in dread. Renewed large scale fighting between Sinn Feiners and police was expected at any moment. Shops had their shutters up. Thousands of people remained indoors, peeping cautiously out from behind drawn curtains when military patrols paced down the streets.

A checkup of the casualties in Sunday's shootings showed a total of 27 identified dead, 14 officers and police and 13 Sinn Fein. At the Croker Park football field where black and tan fought Sinn Feiners, the police bullets flying into the crowd. The hospital records showed nearly 100 persons had received surgical attention.

Tanks Patrol Streets
The Dublin city hall and several of the city's hotels were occupied by troops today and the town was rapidly assuming the appearance of a city in the war zone during the fighting in France. Tanks and military automobiles rumbled through the streets. Sentries with fixed bayonets paced up and down at strategic points. Hotel corridors and the lobby of the city hall were crowded with men in uniform while couriers hastened here and there with messages. There were groups of troops, rifles held ready in front of many houses which were being searched for Sinn Fein gunmen.

Some streets were entirely blocked off by cordons at each corner while every house was gone through from cellar to garret in the search for the fugitives.

Reports from other parts of Ireland indicated that the guerrilla warfare between the Sinn Feiners and government forces was being maintained. Near Cork the body of Captain Thompson was found in a field. He had been shot. At Ballydoon and Constable Kearney died from bullet wounds. Near Skibberan, a party of police was ambushed. One constable was killed and one seriously wounded.

3 Sinn Feiners Killed
Three Sinn Feiners were killed after an attack on sentries, the military said today.

Sentries shot them.

The three were arrested Saturday night and imprisoned in a guard house. Yesterday two of them threw hand grenades at the sentries. The grenades failed to explode, being without detonators.

The third grabbed a rifle which a sentry had dropped in the excitement, and was raising it to his shoulder when other sentries fired.

Dublin was surrounded today by an entanglement of barbed wire. Back of that line lay troops and police, their machine guns and other arms ready for instant use.

Sentries set to fire on the instant, guarded every entrance to the city. Everyone was stopped. Passes to newspapermen, priests, doctors and nurses were valuable. Sentries turned them all back.

Stop All Trains
Incoming trains were stopped until passengers could be searched. No outgoing trains were permitted.

Passengers avoided the outskirts of the city and remained indoors during the night.

It is reported that the tension of the city. Sentries and others fired at the slightest suspicious sound. Traffic was suspended entirely.

The army officers slain in the Sunday raids will be buried in British soil, according to plans announced today.

The flag draped caskets will be taken across the channel on British destroyers. The victims will be buried with full military honors.

Paralytic Stroke.

HEAD OF STATE SOCIETY
Decedent Was One of Most Noted Doctors in State—
Lawrence Graduate.

Dr. Henry W. Abraham, 54 years old, one of the best known physicians in Wisconsin, died suddenly of heart failure at his home, 1065 Front street, at four o'clock Monday afternoon. Dr. Abraham was taken ill while attending a patient Monday morning and was taken to his home where attending physicians said he suffered a mild paralytic stroke. He was placed in bed and it was not believed his condition was serious. Death at four o'clock came without warning.

The decedent had been a resident of Appleton since entering Lawrence college in 1886. He was president of the Wisconsin State Medical society; treasurer of the state board of medical examiners; councillor for the sixth district of the state medical society, and has held many other positions of trust and honor in medical circles. He was also secretary of the Lawrence alumni association.

Travelled in Europe
Dr. Abraham was born in Germany, August 1, 1866. He came to America with his parents when three years old. After graduating from Lawrence college he became instructor in science in the old Third ward high school, a position he held for three years. He then travelled a year in Europe, spending much of his time in Vienna. After his return to America, Dr. Abraham entered Rush Medical college, graduating in 1893. He came to Appleton immediately thereafter and entered the firm of Reeve and Abraham. He was married in 1899 to Miss Nellie Bassett, who with their daughter, Margaret, survives him.

Was War Worker
During the late war Dr. Abraham was a member of the county advisory board and helped organize the medical section. A few months ago he was a special delegate of Governor Phillips to the anti-tuberculosis conference in Duluth. He was elected president of the state medical society at the last convention in LaCrosse. He was appointed a member of the state medical board about 12 years ago and has held several offices as a member of it.

The decedent is survived by his widow; one daughter; two brothers, Major Herman Abraham and Otto Abraham, both of Wausau; two sisters, Mrs. Ida Lenz, Jamestown, N. D., and Mrs. Otto Kickbush, Wausau.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the late residence with Dr. Peabody, pastor of First Congregational church, in charge. Services at the grave will be under the auspices of the Masonic lodge.

Pallbearers will be G. E. Buchanan, Dr. J. B. MacLaren, H. J. Ingold, C. D. Thompson, C. L. Marston and Karl Mathie, the latter of Wausau.

ASKS LEAGUE TO CHASTISE SLAV NATIONS

Lord Robert Cecil Charges
Poles and Lithuanians Violated World Pact.

AWAIT AMERICAN HELP
Armenian Case Is Still Before League Assembly—British Plan Wins.

By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva—Lord Robert Cecil today demanded that Poland and Lithuania be punished according to the league of nations covenant for continuing at war after submission of their dispute to the league.

Cecil demanded the penalties set out in Article 16 of the covenant be inflicted. The article provides that if any member of the league resort to war in violation of the covenant, it shall be deemed to have committed an act of aggression against the other members. Punishment is the breaking of all relations.

The assembly passed over the Armenian question in the forenoon session but Lord Robert Cecil convoked his committee of six for the afternoon to consider it.

Cecil's motion that the league council be compelled to make public all documents in the Polish-Lithuanian settlement was under consideration. Cecil declared the two countries had violated covenant articles by renewing their warfare in less than three months after submitting their quarrel to the league. This constituted a violation of the covenant, he asserted. He demanded that the penalty be inflicted as provided in Article 16.

This article reads: "Should any member of the league resort to war in disregard of its covenant under Articles 12, 13 and 15, it shall inso facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all other members of the league, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the nationals of any other state, whether a member of the league or not."

No Agreement Reached
Selection of a power to negotiate with Turkish leaders to save Armenia, still was before the league today.

Yesterday's session was devoted to the Armenian situation. British and French leading opposing groups in debate as to the manner of proceeding.

The French plan for negotiation with Mustapha Kemal was the assembly's support after M. Rene Viviani had swept the delegates with his oratory.

Viviani's plan called the league council into session last night to draft an appeal to some power to undertake negotiations. The council failed to act, however, and the problem still faced the league today.

There were indications British opposition to the French plan had prevailed in the council.

Frequent references to America in yesterday's debate led to the inference that some delegates hoped to avert drastic action regarding Armenia until the United States should be in position to help.

Suggestions during yesterday's debate that the league needed an armed force were greeted with tremendous cheers.

The British plan for "saving Armenia," was to appoint a commission of six to devise plans for action. It was adopted with the French plan, but was subordinated.

The socialists rushed to their meeting place with the crowd in pursuit. The crowd was met by a volley at close range from the socialist headquarters and Glodani and Colliu, constitutional members of the minority, were killed.

MARKET DEMORALIZED
IN DECLINE IN PRICE
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The hog markets of the country were practically demoralized today by the continued sharp decline in quotations.

Heavy receipts caused by dumping of poorer grades of hogs on the markets by growers and lack of purchases by packers caused the continued decline.

The market in Chicago was off $1 and similar drops were recorded in other leading centers. Prices ranged around $10.

At East St. Louis, violent declines in prices made it impossible for traders to determine the actual condition of the market with hogs off from $1 to $1.25.

OUTAGAMIE COUNTY MAN STARTS SUIT AGAINST EQUITY OFFICERS

Anton Miller, Kaukauna, Assemblman-Elect, Demands Accounting from Officers and Appointment of Receiver for Wisconsin Union—
Trial in Madison

Five past and present officers of the National Union of American Society of Equity are named in an action which has been filed in the courts of Dane county by Anton Miller, Kaukauna, and "all other members standing in the same situation," demanding an accounting for the funds expended by the union, and recommending appointment of a receiver for the assets within the state of Wisconsin.

The men named in the complaints are J. N. Titterton, Omro, Winnebago county, former president of the national union; James Clemmons, Kansasville, Racine county, director; Walter Foster, Neillsville, director; J. H. Carnahan, Black River Falls, president; J. Weiler Long, Madison, former secretary-treasurer. Carnahan is said to have tendered his resignation as president in July, 1920, but it is believed that the board of directors of the union failed to take action upon it.

The action brought by Mr. Miller brings to a head a long controversy which has meant dwindling ranks in the membership of the national equity union. It will prove or disprove rumors concerning the solvency or alleged insolvency of the union. Mr. Miller charges reckless use of funds by the officers and directors in the administration of the union's affairs. The constitution stipulates that each officer is to be paid five dollars and expenses while he is in the employ of the union. Mr. Miller believes he can show that more than this amount has been used.

Mr. Miller is assemblyman-elect from the second district of Outagamie county and is a member of Little Chicago local of the American Society of Equity No. 5902. He is taking the initiative in bringing the action in order to determine the exact status of the national Union's affairs.

The state, county and local unions of the American Society of Equity of Wisconsin, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming are affected by the case. The national union is an Indiana corporation organized in 1902. Its main offices and principal place of business is at Madison. All of the above states were contributing to its support in December, 1919.

Quit Paying Dues
It is said that a number of the locals in various counties of the several states withdrew from the national union and stopped paying dues because of the alleged lax business methods pursued by the officers. Several of the Outagamie county locals are not members for this reason, including the Apple Creek and Mackville. The peak of membership was 40,000, but one of the recent quarterly reports shows that present total to be about 22,000. Each member pays dues of $2.50 a year. Thirty cents of this amount goes to the national treasury and the balance is divided between the state, county and local unions. Fifty cents goes toward a subscription to the official equity paper.

The officers in 1919 were: President, J. N. Titterton, Omro; vice-president, H. A. Fuller, Minnesota; secretary, C. W. Feller, Long, Madison; treasurer, J. H. Carnahan, Black River Falls; vice-treasurer, Arthur Sampson, Dane county. Additional directors, Walter Foster, Neillsville; James Clemmons, H. A. Hendrickson, Iowa; James Clemmons, Racine. The secretary-treasurer is not a director, but is elected by the board.

The 1920 personnel includes: President, J. H. Carnahan, Black River Falls; vice-president, Levi Samuelson, Minnesota; secretary-treasurer, Arthur Sampson, Dane county. Additional directors, Walter Foster, Neillsville; James Clemmons, H. A. Hendrickson.

Probe Neglected
It is said that the new officials promised an investigation of the union's books and affairs, but that nothing was ever done. It was alleged that the national union became insolvent after the new officers came in, but the board of directors failed to prove or disprove it, as promised. Mr. Miller therefore started action to bring the matter to a head.

The case is to be tried in the courts of Dane county, in which the city of Madison and the national union headquarters are located. The first step is an adverse examination November 26 and 27 of Arthur Sampson and J. Weiler Long, present and past secretary-treasurers, respectively. They will be asked to tell what they know of the condition of the treasury. Morgan and John of the national union, Arthur St. Paul, Minn., have been engaged by Mr. Miller to conduct the case.

$5,000 INCOMES FOR
CHICAGO JANITORS
Chicago—Chicago janitors are lucky to have such good jobs, they were told by real estate dealers in answer to demands for 50 per cent increases in wages.

"We told them they were the best paid unskilled laborers in Chicago today," John Carroll, chairman of the real estate committee, said.

"Some of the janitors make as much as $5,000 a year," Carroll explained.

INFLUENTIAL GAMBLERS
GET GOOD TREATMENT

Chicago—New scandals in Chicago's police department threatened today following announcement by Charles Fitzmorris, chief of police, that influential gamblers arrested in raids on vice quarters Sunday were not measured and photographed for records of the bureau of identification.

Chief Fitzmorris announced an immediate investigation would be made of how these persons escaped the identification room. He said orders had been given that each of the 500 taken in Chicago's greatest crime raid Sunday were to be sent to the identification bureau before release. He also was angered by the small fines judges meted out to those trapped in raids.

Chicago—The house immigration committee today resumed its work of framing an immigration restriction bill, hoping to have the measure ready soon after the opening of congress next month.

Representative Johnson, Washington, chairman, and some of the other members of the committee who have just returned from New York, said their inspection of Ellis Island could aid with information given them by A. F. Wallis, commissioner of immigration there, had convinced them more than ever of the immediate necessity of restricting immigration.

Johnson is understood to be urging upon other members of the committee the plan of denying to all but blood relatives of naturalized aliens.

Wallis told members of the committee the same story that practically every traveler returning from Europe has brought home. He said Italy alone is preparing to send five million persons to this country and reliable reports show that eight million Germans want to come here.

Will Raise $27,000 To Carry On Boy Scout Work

Henry W. Tuttrup Re-elected Head of Advisory Council at Annual Meeting.

Henry W. Tuttrup was re-elected president of the Appleton Boy Scout Advisory Council at the annual meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The plan for a budget of $27,000 covering a period of three years was adopted, and the offer of the Rotary club to assume the responsibility of raising the amount was accepted.

The recommendation of the nominating committee that all of the old officers be re-elected was unanimously accepted.

The budget committee after careful study of the needs of the scout organization worked out a prospective budget, subject to the decision and action of the council. The budget was to cover a period of three years, because of the disadvantage in carrying on a campaign every year for money. The amount to be raised was set at $27,000, of which approximately $10,000 is to be spent the first year, and approximately $8,000 to be spent each of the two following years. Mr. Tuttrup explained that there were many articles which would be bought the next year that would be good for several seasons, therefore the largest amount will be expended in 1921.

"It is nearer six months ago than a year since we last met," said Mr. Tuttrup, at the opening of the meeting. "However, since the last meeting we have made considerable progress in the scout work. At that time the organization was little more than on paper." Mr. Tuttrup said the committees have met regularly, and that the executive committee has functioned. He said that no irksome work had fallen upon the members of the council, and that they should feel they are as much a part of the organization as any committee.

"The present offices of the scout commissioner are located in the Jens building on Appleton street, and if the plans of the chamber of commerce and a few other organizations materialize, we hope to have better quarters in the community center building which will be built."

The reports of the various standing committees were received and accepted. The finance committee, chairman, E. E. Sager, reported seven meetings held with an average attendance of four men. The net cash on hand amounted to $385.83. With pledges unpaid, but which are still good, the surplus in the Appleton Scout treasury is nearly $1800.

H. L. Davis, chairman of the publicity committee, said that his committee was prepared to shoot when the big campaign for the three-year budget came.

"There has been very little work for the committee. However, to date we have had 66 stories in the Post-Crescent and an editorial of one column, making a total of over 300 column inches of printing."

The court of honor was represented at the meeting by Dr. M. J. Sanborn and Gustave Keller. Mr. Keller reported that a total of 44 merit badges had been passed, and of these, three were star badges and one was a life scout badge.

"The Court of Honor feels very well satisfied with the way in which the boys were able to pass the tests."

"A star scout," said Mr. Tuttrup, "is one who is able to pass ten tests. The highest honor that can be given to any scout is the Eagle Scout badge. A scout who has successfully passed

RECORD CROWD AT C. OF C. FORUM

Chicago Man Sure of Large Audience When He Speaks Here Wednesday Night.

Reservations continue to reach the Chamber of Commerce office for the monthly forum banquet at Appleton hotel Wednesday evening. The program and entertainment committees are devoting their efforts to plans to make the meeting lively and interesting from start to finish.

EL Archibald Harris of Chicago, the speaker of the evening, promises to give his hearers a vitally interesting address on the federal tax situation, especially as it affects the lay business man. He is said to be a forceful speaker who can make a technical subject as interesting as an inspirational lecture.

The usual forum privileges will be extended to members. It is expected that many will have questions to ask the speaker on tax matters. He will be prepared to answer them intelligently, in view of his experience as a government tax official and his later experience as tax adviser for many firms and business organizations.

63 tests is entitled to an Eagle Scout badge. So far as I know, there is only one scout in the state who may possibly become an Eagle scout. He has already passed over 55 of the required 63 tests."

Mr. Henderson, scout executive, said that what the scout organization in Appleton needs is men.

"The boys are plentiful, but the men who are needed to train the boys after we have them are scarce. Over half the scout leaders in the country are college graduates, and I am proud to say that the leaders of the Appleton Boy Scouts are all of that class. I hope we will be able to keep it so."

Mr. Henderson expressed appreciation of the work by the members of the council. He said that it was gratifying to work with men who accomplished things. The progress that has been made, the speaker said, was due to the fact that everyone pulled together. The men deserved praise for the untiring energy and devotion they have shown for the work.

"People have often asked the question, 'What do we do that requires so much of our time at the office?' Our office force has been organized only since last July, but since then we have handled over 12,000 pieces of incoming mail, and have sent out over 1,500 pieces. We have handled some what over 1,100 incoming telephone calls, and have sent out over 1,300. The office is hardly at any time without two or more people in it. In fact, some of them have had to go away without obtaining an audience."

Mr. Henderson said that there are always people who are calling for business in the interests of the scouts, and he felt that the present force had all it could do.

The report of all the committees showed that the scout movement in Appleton is making great headway. Two important questions were decided at meetings of the camping committee. Provision was made that the consent of the parents be requested at all times when the scouts go on a hike that will keep them away from home over Sunday. The camping committee has spent much time in looking over possible camp sites. At present negotiations are being carried on for the use of Alicia park. There are buildings there in which the boys may sleep, but one drawback to it is, that it is closer home than most boys would like it to be.

It was decided that both Protestant and Catholic services be provided at the week-end camps. These two provisions may have much effect on the minds of parents who are loath to let their boys go out for the week-end.

SPEND 26 YEARS ON FIRE DEPARTMENT

Assistant Chief Conroy and Captain Reiter Observe Anniversary.

Three members of the Appleton fire department are rounding out their 26th year of service. Assistant Chief John Conroy and Capt. Nicholas Reiter were in the department 26 years Sunday and Chief George P. McGillan will observe his service anniversary December 3.

All three came into the department in 1894 when the city changed from a volunteer to a paid force. There were nine men added at that time, but all the others have resigned. The latest veterans to leave the force were Capt. M. Spielbauer and Lieut. Whitefoot, who resigned several months ago.

"We have seen many changes in the department since we became members of it," said Chief McGillan. "First we had the hose reel on four wheels and later the yadded wagon box, which was a decided improvement. We are glad we lived to see the day when the department was motorized. It is a wonderful improvement and seems to have made the work easier for us. There was a certain amount of attachment for the fire horses, but a motor equipped fire station is much more pleasing. All we need now to complete the department is the two-platoon system the firemen won't be on duty for such long periods."

PLOWING RESUMED AS RAIN SOFTENS GROUND

The rural district in the vicinity of Appleton took on the appearance of spring Monday. Farmers who had given up their fall plowing when the ground froze up about three weeks ago and laid away their tools, suddenly for the winter, took them out again, and started plowing.

The rain of the last few days drove most of the frost out of the ground again and made the land easier to plow than earlier in the fall with the hope of finishing it before another freezeup comes, which will mean a delay until spring.

PILGRIM HALF DOLLARS RECEIVED IN APPLETON

A supply of the new Pilgrim half dollars has been procured by the First National bank from the National Shawmut bank of Boston, the official distributing agent for the coins. The supply is limited.

MANUFACTURERS RETURN SURVEY QUESTIONNAIRES

The chamber of commerce is receiving many responses to its letter sent to manufacturers several days ago urging that the questionnaire in the industrial survey be returned. Only a few blanks are still outstanding and Secretary Corbett expects these to be mailed back within a day or two. Work on the survey has been in progress for several weeks, but it has been impossible to compile the information because all the blanks were not in. The directors decided to speed up the work. The information contained in the questionnaire is kept confidential and the blanks are to be destroyed as soon as the figures are complete.

Chester Mertle was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital Monday evening and will submit to an operation for appendicitis.

A Tip to the Economical Housewife: There are Turkeys, Geese and Ducks appearing on the market with intestines not drawn. You will find it much better to buy those that are drawn immediately when killed and not have them lay around for two or three days with filthy intestines in them.

FIREMAN KILLED SAVING OTHERS

Relative of Appleton People Loses Life in Effort to Save Children.

C. T. Brown, 505 John street, has returned from Iron River, Mich., where he attended the funeral of his son, Claude Brown, who was killed while on duty as captain of the Iron River fire department.

A fire. A slot machine used in a pool room was standing on a sidewalk in front of the burning structure. It tipped over, spilling pennies all over the sidewalk. Thoughtless children scrambled for the pennies in a danger zone where the firemen had been forbidden to go.

Realizing the children's danger, Brown rushed into their midst and drove them out of harm's way. He was about to leave the spot himself when a portion of the wall fell, bringing with it a large electric sign which struck the fireman on the back of the head. He was rendered unconscious and died a few hours later in a hospital.

Brown is survived by his widow and a two-year old daughter. He also has a sister living in Appleton, Mrs. William Moody, who was at Iron River to attend the funeral. The service was held in the town hall and was attended by hundreds.

BIG CROWD WELCOMES WINNING PLAYERS

An audience which packed Appleton theatre to the doors welcomed the winning players at their opening here Monday evening. The entire company shows an improvement over last year.

The farce comedy, "What is Your Husband Doing?" was the opening bill and it pleased mightily.

One of the features was the musical concert by the theatre orchestra under the direction of F. H. Jebe.

Tonight the company will present a new play of the underworld: "One of Us," by Jack Lait.

Only One Thing Now
Lacking—Money

"I have doctored nine years for stomach and liver trouble and spent thousands of dollars, but instead of becoming cured of these ailments, my bloating and pains and attacks became worse. I was persuaded a year ago to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and have never suffered since taking the first dose. I wish I had the money back I spent for other medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and always the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. — All druggists. adv.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants For Insurance Often Rejected

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

COMING SESSION OF CONGRESS

The next session of congress, which meets December 6th, and which will be the third and last session of the sixty-sixth congress, will last only until the inauguration of the new president, March 4, next, when the session will expire by limitation of law. Including the Christmas holidays, which nearly always last ten days, the next session will have less than seventy working days. It will be readily seen from this limited time that the December session will not be able to enact much legislation. It will do well to pass the fourteen big annual appropriation bills, and adjourn in time for the presidential inauguration.

There is another thing besides lack of time, which will prevent much, if any, new legislation in the December session. As a new congress and a new president will take the helm after March 4 there will be a general desire on the part of all congressmen to defer important legislation until the new president makes his desires known, and until the new members of congress, of which there will be many, can participate in national legislation.

The first session of the new Sixty-seventh congress will be a special session called by the new president after his inauguration next March. This session will last a long time, and may even run into the regular December session of congress, 1921. At this special session all the vast reconstruction problems of the new administration will have to be considered and solved, and it will take months to do that. The last session did not really have time to grapple with reconstruction problems and neither will the December session. Reconstruction will be effected in the special session of the new congress. These problems are as gigantic and important as those which confronted the federal government at the beginning of its participation in the world war.

Though the December session will not have time to take up the problems of government there are two legislative matters besides the appropriation bills which that session will likely endeavor to put through. One of them is revision of the tax laws and the other is some sort of relief from the housing situation which has grown serious in nearly every urban community in the whole country.

It is probable that an effort will be made in December to completely revise the income tax laws, but because of the lack of time in that session, it is doubtful if the new tax bill can be enacted into law. Both Democratic and Republican leaders are very anxious to have the tax laws, particularly the income tax revised from top to bottom. Needless to say that every citizen concurs in this desire, for the income tax, it cannot be denied, presses heavily upon the poor and rich alike. In the December session, it is stated, Secretary Houston will ask congress to make the new law simpler than the present cumbersome statute. One of the most important recommendations of Mr. Houston will be that the commissioner of internal revenue be authorized to make final determinations in any tax assessment. Under the present law a tax case can be opened time and time again until the taxpayer never knows when he is through with litigation with the treasury. But a lowering of the whole income tax schedule is what is desired by congressmen and citizens alike. There are also many imperfections in the present income tax law as happens usually in complex and new statutes, and these must be ironed out. In the revision house and senate leaders are said to plan not only a general reduction in all schedules, but changes so that the smaller taxpayers will pay in less proportion than he is now compelled to. This will surely be legislation that will be popular with the masses.

Doubtless the housing situation will all so be considered by the December session. The shortage of homes in every section of the land, excepting in the rural districts is nearly as serious, and quite as universal, as the tax burden and the high cost of living. This problem confronting congress will have two angles—to make possible and to encourage building and to deter profiteers from exacting the pound of flesh from helpless tenants. The situation may, it is suggested, result in a federal law establishing rent commissions in all cities of certain population. Taxation, too, will be considered as a means of relief for the housing shortage. Federal taxes on newly constructed dwellings now average about three per cent of the total cost. This is, of course, tacked onto the rent. If these taxes were remitted it would seem that lower rents could be secured. Where rents are now based on nine per cent interest on the investment, three per cent of it is tax. With this tax removed there should be a one-third reduction in rents by the landlords who have raised their prices to all the traffic would bear.

THE DECLINING DEATH RATE

The death rate of the United States last year was the lowest ever reported as shown by a statement of the census bureau just published—12.9 for each thousand of inhabitants. Nineteen years ago it was 17½, five years ago it was 13½, two years ago the epidemic of influenza interrupted the steady march of improvement, but as shown by the bureau's figures, there was a prompt rally from that setback. So we may say that some several hundred thousand more people would have died in this country last year but for the better care we take of our health, mainly by public sanitation. This ratio of course is for the "registration area," which embraces about 81 per cent of the total population. Probably the remaining 19 per cent fared in about the same way, though the fact that it is not enough interested in the matter to make a proper report of vital statistics raises a presumption against it.

In almost every city the colored death rate is substantially higher than the white, in a number of cities, including the Northern as well as Southern towns, it is double that of the whites, and in a few places more than double. For all registration cities in which the colored population formed ten per cent or more of the total, the colored death rate is shown to be twenty-six per thousand as against fifteen for whites. That embodies about the whole story of a falling death rate, for undoubtedly the colored population of cities live under less sanitary conditions than the white.

Of the million and a third persons, speaking in round numbers, who died in the United States last year, about one quarter were under five years of age, and over 200,000 were under one year. It is there, probably, that attacks upon the death rate can be most successfully made; for there is no doubt that a large proportion of infant deaths are preventable.

The falling death rate is the result of social action, a strictly co-operative product. This has been most vigorously applied in cities; so the death rate, the country over, is but slightly above that of rural districts. And in some of the larger Northern cities the death rate is even lower than in the country.

THE "PROSPECT" DID KNOW ABOUT ARMY
Kansas City, Mo.—Sergeant John Bonnie of the army recruiting office here saw an unusually well-built and alert-looking young fellow sauntering along the street. "I never think about joining the army," he inquired. The "prospect" had. Thereupon Bonnie gave a glowing recital of the advantages of army life. The young man listened for 10 minutes, and then explained that he was Karl D. Klemm, former colonel of the 129th Field Artillery, a graduate of West Point. Incidentally, in civilian life, he is a general manager of the Kansas City Kaw Valley and Western Railway.

FLOWN HALF THE DISTANCE TO MOON!
New York.—Colonel Cedric E. Pauntleroy has flown half the distance to the moon. Oh, no, he wasn't trying to reach the moon. The colonel was a flyer in the Lafayette Escadrille, flew in the American army in France and then organized the Koshutsko Squadron to fight in Poland. He has piloted planes between 130,000 and 140,000 miles or half the distance to the moon in 1100 hours in the air. Herbert Hoover asked him to return to America to tell Americans what Poland needs.

ONLY SCHOOL OF KIND IN WORLD?
Johnson City, Tenn.—This city boasts of the only school of its kind in the world. Here men may learn anything from grammar to fighting the boll weevil, art or journalism. The school is a government sanatorium for the cure of tuberculosis and 1000 ex-service men are here. They are taught whatever they wish to learn while patients. The National Tuberculosis Association is co-operating with the government.

BOYS ATTACKED IN COSMETIC WAR
Huntington, W. Va.—There's a cosmetic war on at the high school here, boys on one side and girls on the other. The parent-teachers' association decided to simplify the garb of high school girls and eliminate cosmetics from their dressing tables. The boys have been ridiculing those who violate the rule. Now the girls charge the boys are using brilliantine to give their hair a glossy appearance.

THE TWIN DENTAL DELUSIONS

Some people still imagine it is "dangerous to have an ulcerated tooth extracted." And a few old fossils still manage to do a little dental practice in spite of the fact that they agree with this dangerous delusion. An "ulcerated" tooth is one with an abscess at its root, and if a competent dentist thinks the tooth is damaged beyond saving, then certainly the safest course for the victim is immediate extraction of the tooth. It is precisely like a sliver in a festering wound—and surely no one would hesitate about having the sliver extracted. Yet hundreds of deluded human beings suffer for days and days with "ulcerated tooth," waiting for the "inflammation to go down" before they even consult the dentist or if the dentist happens to be one of the rare mossbacks mentioned, waiting until the ignoramus can screw up sufficient moral courage to extract the offender. The suffering thus unnecessarily endured is but a minor matter. The danger of such neglect is that the inflammation may spread, the infection travel deeply into the jaw bone, producing a grave condition indeed. This very thing now and then happens just before the victim, in desperation, finally seeks dental treatment; and the extraction having been too long delayed, the infection is not overcome, but progresses unrelieved. It is such a case that the ignorant patient is inclined to blame the dentist for his plight! And because public opinion is unreasonable and jurists are composed of all kinds of people, some dentists refuse to extract an "ulcerated tooth" if they think the patient is of inferior intelligence. This is not good surgical practice, to flinch in the path of duty, yet one can hardly blame them.

Another delusion that is twin to the "ulcerated tooth" delusion is the one that helps many a quick dentist out of a bad situation. The dupo patronizes the dental charlatan who blows his horn and tells the world of a "painless" method all his own. The quick injects the same local anesthetics that any other dentist would use, but with this difference: The quick dentist is uneducated, unskilled, and he is careless or ignorant about surgical cleanliness, asepsis. His victim, a few days after the "painless" extraction, suffers a swollen face. What is the matter? Oh, "cough cold!" The poor dupe accepts that explanation as the truth. The truth is, however, that the jaw has been infected, and in most such cases the infection is attributable to plain neglect of the essential principles of surgical cleanliness.

The "catching cold" delusion lets many a quick dentist out of a bad situation, just as it helps many an incompetent doctor over a doubtful diagnosis.

ALLIES OF THE CHURCH

By Dr. James I. Vance

Important as the church is, it cannot alone meet and master the problem of civilization. It needs the help of allies. There are three allies to which it has a right to look for helpful cooperation.

One of these is the state. We do not believe in America in the union of church and state, but we should labor to promote the most cordial relations between the two. The state can make easy or difficult the work of the church. It can build barriers of legal restraint against the tide of pleasure and commercialism that would overflow the church. A town in which lawlessness abounds and the Sabbath is disregarded is a community in which the church is seriously handicapped.

Another ally is the school. The school can do some things the church cannot do. But the school is a poor promoter of civilization when it discards the church. The education that breaks down faith in God is not to be desired. The schools we need in America are not sectarian institutions, but they are the schools whose atmosphere is kindly to a faith in God.

But the most important ally of the church is the family. If family life is Godless, the work of the church is hopelessly crippled.

Men may differ as to their conception of the tendencies of the present age, but they must agree that the seat of power for both the state and the church is in the family.

Not the individual but the family is the social unit, and as goes the home, so goes the nation and so goes civilization.

These are the allies the church needs to do its work: A state that enacts moral values into its statutes; a school that harnesses life to convictions, and a family with an altar as well as a hearthstone.

"SKIN THE CAT" REAL BUSINESS!

Ames, Iowa.—As a result of the high price of furs, quotations on house cat skins have risen recently to $1 per hide. "Skin the cat" is no longer a game among small boys here, it is a business; and already there is a marked scarcity of stray pussies.

The Bewildered Eater

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Washington, D. C.—Sad and confused must be the man who tries to eat scientifically in accordance with the information he finds in the public prints. Every few months a new dietetic god and a new salvation is offered him, and each seems completely to displace the old one.

Some of us can remember back to the time, for example, when butter-milk was to make new men of us all. Many persons of the older generation still retain faith in butter-milk as a prolonger of human life which is untrue to the faith of a little child in Santa Claus.

But more recently attention was diverted from butter-milk to a mysterious thing called the calorie. Lots of people thought a calorie was itself something to eat, but the more sophisticated grasped the idea that it was a unit of heat or of energy. You need a certain number of calories in order to do your work in the world, and too many or too few will ruin you. The calorie-counter, who computed the number of calories in every dish set before him, became so common that one great chain of restaurants placed the number of calories in parenthesis after each article on its menu.

Then, still more recently, the calorie was eclipsed in popularity by a still more mysterious class of things known as vitamins. A vitamin, we gathered, was not a unit of measurement like a calorie, but an actual substance, which was necessary to health. It occurs in milks, eggs, fresh fruit and vegetables. We ourselves went into the matter with many experts and set forth the facts in detail in these columns. They need not be repeated. Suffice it to say that unless you get enough vitamins, your machinery won't work.

Mineral Starvation

But a new complexity has been introduced into this business of eating, which the ancients regarded as a simple pleasure, and which has become such a complex science for us. The latest bugaboo of the dinner table is generally known as "mineral starvation." A Boston dentist, whose work was recently described in The Haskin Letter, has reached the conclusion that our teeth decay, not because of the particles of food deposited on the surface of them, but because our habitual diet does not contain enough mineral-building material to keep them in repair. And this same advanced view has been held by many of the food situation. Once again guinea pigs, dogs, and pigeons have been sacrificed to prove the point. Fed on some of the demineralized foods which make up so large a part of the civilized diet, it is said, they practically starve to death.

This is the idea of mineral starvation, as we understand it: A great many of the foods which we eat are refined. This means that certain portions of the natural product are removed. In some cases this is done by manufacturing processes and sometimes by cooking processes in the home. Sometimes it is done merely because we are in the habit of eating the food that way, and sometimes because it is necessary to refine the foods in order to improve their keeping and shipping qualities.

Disadvantage of Boiled Flour

The leading refined manufactured foods, it appears, are the white, bolted wheat flour of which our bread is made, the manufactured corn meal of commerce, and the polished rice. Some investigators have taken the belligerent position that food manufacturers are poisoning the American people. They have, in a word, tried the usual American stunt of finding a scapegoat and raising a moral issue. As a matter of fact there is none! The manufacturers give us what we demand. It is true that it is impossible to buy whole wheat bread in many American cities today (Graham bread is not the same thing.) But if even one housewife in ten began regularly demanding whole wheat bread, it would make its appearance. The manufacturers are not slow to satisfy any paying demand. And you can't blame them for not trying to put out a product for which there is no demand. One manufacturer a few years ago did try putting on the market natural brown rice instead of polished rice in the interests of health. He could not sell it.

Taking the blame unto ourselves, then, let us see why it is that the refined foods are not good for us. In making our white bolted flour, the millers remove the outer husk of the wheat. In so doing they greatly reduce its content of mineral and fat, leaving largely pure protein. The same happens in the commercial process of making corn meal. In like manner the brown husk of the rice contains valuable minerals, while the white polished rice contains almost none. In the tropics, the disease known as beriberi follows upon eating polished rice, and is prevented by a diet of natural brown rice.

These minerals which are removed are necessary to the building of bone and tissue. But they are also necessary to keep the blood in its proper chemical composition. The proteins which form the bulk of our food tend to make the blood acid. These minerals keep it alkaline. A great many of our typical diseases are due to acid blood.

Eat Potatoes Baked
Many of the elements in our diet, which might counteract this tendency to acidosis of the blood, are demineralized before we eat them. Thus the potato is a valuable alkaline food, but if boiled and mashed much of the best of its substance is leached away. It should be eaten baked with the skin on, and parts of the skin should be eaten, too.

In general, the way to avoid a demineralized diet, as we understand it, is to eat whole wheat bread if you can get it. Some food experts advise that you buy whole corn and make your own corn meal in a little hand mill. It is true that whole corn is found by hand makes a more tasty bread than the commercial product. The Indians in the Southwest grind their own corn by hand, and its fame has spread so that the Indians have quite a demand for it from the white people. Oatmeal is a good natural food, and breads and cookies may be made from it as well as mush. The natural brown rice is good if you can get it. So much for the cereals.

Of vegetables we learn that spinach, carrots, and turnips are especially rich in minerals needed by the body. Plenty of fruit should be eaten, of course. Raisins are especially good because rich in iron. Did you ever try stewed raisins for breakfast?

Meat should be cut down, and broiled or roasted meat is better than that which has been boiled, as the boiling takes out the minerals.

In general the problem of eating is not so terrible as it seems provided you have money enough and sense enough to procure a varied diet. The more varied it is, apparently, the better chance you have of getting the food elements you need. Next to variety, perhaps the best rule you can follow is to eat foods as much as possible in their natural states. Whole grains are very hard to get in this country, and the lack of them seems to be the most serious problem of our diet, but whole fruits and whole vegetables, and meats not overcooked will supply much of what the cereals lack.

Q. What is the loss of gasoline by evaporation when stored in an underground tank?
A. F. W. J.

Q. The Bureau of Mines says that loss by evaporation when gasoline is properly stored in an underground tank is very small. Most dealers figure that one per cent would cover all losses.

A. G.

Q. What is a water volcano and where is there one?
A. K. K. B.

A. A reyser might be termed a water volcano. In fact, "Old Faithful" in Yellowstone National Park, is sometimes styled the "Water Volcano."
A. G.

Q. Why is the word "picnicking" spelled with a "k"?
A. W. C. B.

A. The letter "k" was introduced into "picnicking" in order to harden the sound of the "c." If the word were spelled "picnicing," the "c" would be soft, and pronounced like an "s," since it would be followed by a vowel.
A. G.

Q. Can you tell me which was the best paid army during the late war?

A. F. K. K.

A. The pole star is now about 10 degrees distant from the true celestial pole. In the time of Hipparchus, it was 12 degrees distant, and it is estimated that by A. D. 2095, thru the procession of the equinoxes, the pole star will be less than ½ degree distant.

A. G.

Q. Is there such a thing as a varnish tree?
A. G. A. R.

A. This name is given to several trees because their resinous juice is used for varnishing or lacquering. India, Japan, Java, Sumatra, Borneo, Celebes, and other East Indian Islands are the homes of these trees.
A. G.

Q. Has any substance been found which is absolutely cold?
A. T. S.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that heat is a property possessed by all known substances. Heat and cold as ordinarily used are relative terms. A cold body possesses less heat than a hot one. Absolute cold would be found at the absolute zero of temperature which has never been reached in scientific researches. At this temperature, all known gases would cease to exist as such, and be changed to liquids or to solids.
A. G.

Q. What causes bread to be streaked?
A. M. T.

A. Streaked bread may result from one of several causes—uneven mixing and kneading, starting baking with oven too hot, setting dough in too warm a place, crust formed in first rising. The first reason is the usual one and can be remedied by careful and thorough mixing and kneading of the dough.
A. G.

Q. What are the days of the week named after?
A. J. D. II.

A. The days of the week were named after the following: Sunday, named for the Sun; Monday for the Moon; Tuesday for Tiuco; Wednesday for Woden or Odin; Thursday for Thor; Friday for Freia; and Saturday for Saturn. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were named for Norwegian gods.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

There should be no gamble or "hunch" involved in the picking out of the Sunday chicken. Every housekeeper can pick a good one if she bears a few points in mind.

First of all the breast bone of a young chicken is always flexible. That is the sure sign. The smoothness of the legs and feet, the tenderness of the skin, the "pin feathers," these are apt to vary with the "brand" of chickens and be deceiving as to age.

So if a chicken has smooth legs and feet, tender skin, no superfluous fat and a flexible breast bone the bird is young and will be tender when fried.

Menu for Tomorrow

LUNCHEON—Open egg sandwich, steamed pudding with hard sauce, tea.

My Own Recipes
Just plain stewed tomatoes are somewhat glorified by the addition of bread cubes toasted. Cut the bread in half-inch cubes, and toast in a very hot oven. It's no trick at all to toast them this way, for they toast on all sides at once.

STRAINED PUDDING
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup molasses
1 cup milk
1 cup white flour
2-3 cup Graham flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg
1 cup seeded raisins
Melt butter. Add molasses and milk. Add Graham flour. Mix and sift white flour, soda, salt and spices. Add to first mixture. Stir in raisins. Turn into a buttered mold and steam two hours. Serve with hard sauce.

HARD SAUCE
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg (white)
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat butter to a cream. Slowly beat in sugar. Beat white of egg till stiff and dry and beat into first mixture. Add vanilla. Put in a dish and grate nutmeg over it.

A repairman's torch is believed to have started the fire. M. F. Kennedy, founder of the famous house, was rescued from his office on the second floor.

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very time the mothers should watch that the important function of daily elimination is regular and normal. Many thousands of mothers who have daughters will tell you they give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A teaspoonful is sufficient to relieve constipation and its commoner symptoms such as headache, bad breath, biliousness, loss of appetite and restlessness.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, and a sixty-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. Buy a bottle today and you will quickly see why it is so popular.

TRY IT FREE

BIG KENOSHA AUTO FACTORY CLOSES

Nash Motors Company Lays Off Several Thousand of Its Workmen.

Kenosha—For the first time since February, 1918, the big plant of the Nash Motor company at this city was practically closed down on Monday. On Saturday between two thousand and two thousand five hundred of the employees of the plant were laid off and several hundred more will be discharged before Thanksgiving, making an almost complete shutdown of the plant.

It was announced that the period of unemployment would be for two weeks while the annual inventory of the plant is being taken and while plans are being made for readjustment. It was also stated that it was not expected that all of the people would return to work when the period of resumption came. "We are going to take back all the people that we can," declared T. H. Alford, vice president of the company, in discussing the situation.

"But we did not feel that the men should be forced to lose the two weeks' time. The automobile business is not rushing at the present and we must limit employment to the demands of the business." The Cooper plant is also shut down for inventory and it will take the same methods of readjustment to make the labor market more stable in Kenosha.

WANT HALF MILLION FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL AID

Madison—State aid of $500,000, instead of the $250,000 granted at present, will be asked of the legislature by the state board of vocational education. It was announced here. A rapid increase in the number of industrial schools is given as the reason.

The state has agreed to meet half of the expense of maintenance and teachers' salaries, while the cities are to bear the other expenses. Since the special session of the legislature last June, the number of vocational schools has jumped from thirty-two to forty-eight, with other cities about to start the training.

During the growth the board has promoted its state aid to the schools rather than leaving any stipulated sum to any one city. It is its intention to continue this policy if a larger appropriation is voted by the legislature.

Beauty Secrets for Women

A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so-called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girlish dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have backache and dragging pains.

Favorite Prescription is altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. In tablet or liquid form at all drug-gists, or send 10c for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

'HEIRESS' FACES NEW THEFT CHARGE

Manitowoc's "Million Dollar Girl" Appropriates Brother's $80 Check.

Manitowoc—Mrs. Harold Haultauf, derheide, local girl, who became known as the "girl of the million dollars," when she created a state-wide sensation a few months ago by claiming to have inherited a vast sum of money, is in court, following another escape in financing. The girl was arrested on complaint of her brother, Walter Herzog, who alleges his sister appropriated an $80 check belonging to him, which he had received from the government. Mrs. Haultauf-derheide cashed the check, Herzog says and went to Milwaukee in search of a man named Rahr whom, she maintains, has proof of her legacy of the million dollars she did not receive.

Last June the girl while at Milwaukee produced documents purporting to will her a million dollars and on the strength of the forthcoming money she managed to borrow sums at banks and from relatives, several hundred dollars in all, with which she bought a costly wardrobe. The source of the false documents was never learned, but the girl's dream of wealth faded soon after authorities investigated her case. It is probable that her latest affair will be settled without further court proceedings. The case was adjourned.

CLEAR HEAD, GOOD ARM, BRAVE HEART—SUCCESS RECIPE

Dr. Barker Tells High School Students How to Make Way in the World.

"There are three things which a person must have in order to attain success," said Dr. Charles E. Barker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., in an address Tuesday morning before students of the high school.

"The first, strong arm; clear head and a brave heart."

Mr. Barker gave illustrations of what he meant by each of these requirements. He said that one should not only have a clear head, but he should be able to think clearly. As an illustration of a brave heart, he told of a sergeant in the army who was ordered to take two men and go out to destroy a machine gun nest. The sergeant was wounded, but he kept on and destroyed the nest.

"That is not the highest type of bravery," Mr. Barker said. "The highest type of physical bravery is to

GIRLS DANCE AND SING AT MEETING

Pleasant Program Is Presented at Woman's Club Party at High School.

A large audience attended the entertainment provided by the recreation department of the Woman's Club at the Appleton high school auditorium Monday evening. A well balanced and excellent program was presented, representing all the activities of the department. The girls' glee club sang a group of songs, under the leadership of Miss Eleanor Schneider. The girls showed evidence of the training and practice they had had under Miss Schneider, as did the choir of St. Mary church which sang the "Miserere" under her direction at a former meeting.

A playlet, "The Maker of Dreams" was presented by three girls of the dramatic club, Estelle Chamberlain as Pierrot, Lillian Pedlow, Pierrette, and Lillian Lushow as the Maker of Dreams. The costumes were in keeping with the atmosphere of the play and added much to the effectiveness of the whole.

Little Miss Rosalind Harbeck, dressed in dainty yellow costume, was the "Little Maid on Her Toes." This little solo dance number was enthusiastically received.

A folk dance, "Reaping the Flax" was given by a group of young ladies in quaint Norwegian costumes. Those participating in this dance were Evelyn Schröder, Genevieve Vanderlinden, Leone Smith, Blanch Scherbel, Clara Sedo, Irene Heiss, Dorothy DeYoung, Margaret DeYoung, Regina King, Genevieve Kobler, Virginia Johnson, Josephine Treiber, Clara Lemke and Lorene Reinke.

A dainty, beautiful dance, "The Dance of Mirth" was given by Freda Bartman, Hannah Rosenthal, Gerdene Chamberlain, Esther Ashman and Ruth Lacey in costumes of the palest hue, which they made themselves. Miss Eleanor Halls, in the costume of a court herald, introduced each number with a few clever lines of poetry. The accompaniment for the dances was played by Miss Eleanor Schneider.

WARM WEATHER BLAMED FOR HIGH TURK PRICES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The red-headed, blue-blooded aristocrat of the Thanksgiving day feast will cost Mr. and Mrs. Ultimate Consumer a few cents more on the pound this year.

Turkeys have a lean and hungry look this year and are scarce, therefore the prices ranged from 50 to 52 cents a pound wholesale, according to J. B. Mitchell, commission merchant.

Warm weather, it is said, has caused the scarcity crop of birds. The "squawking" will be cheaper Christmas, it was promised.

Cranberries are wholesaling at 14 cents a quart, the highest they have ever been. Other "trimmings" are reported a bit cheaper than a year ago.

Those who maintain that turkey meat is "too dry anyway," can get chicken and other fowls at about last year's prices.

BUSINESS WILL REVIVE IN SPRING, BANKER SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Revival in business on a more wholesome and stable basis next spring was predicted today by James B. Forgan, chairman of the board of the First National bank, here.

"In a few months readjustment will be complete and business activities will be on the upward trend again," Forgan said.

"We are passing through a trying period. Eastern bankers insist everyone must bear his share of the unavoidable losses incident to establishing a generally lower level of prices. But they are optimistic that readjustment will not cost heavily in the way of failures."

HARD TIMES DO NOT BOTHER THESE WORKERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Fort Madison, Ia.—A factory which has curtailed production but has not laid off its employees, was found here today.

Due to the general business depression, T. P. Hollowell, manager of the chair making plant at the state prison, announced that the plant will be operated for three days a week in the future.

All storage houses at the prison are filled with chairs, Hollowell said. The workers will not be given a vacation, but other jobs were found for them.

Washington.—The Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad today applied to the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue $227,500 promissory notes for the purchase of 100 refrigerator cars.

MANY FARMERS ARE HUNTING FOR DEER

Nearly 500 Outagamie County Men Purchased Deer Hunting Tags.

"The majority of deer hunters of Outagamie county this year are farmers," said Miss Mollie Pfaffner, assistant county clerk, who issues most of the hunters' licenses. "Other seasons large numbers of licensees were issued to business and professional men, but this year farmers have almost a clear field," said Miss Pfaffner. She was unable to assign any reason.

All but 50 of the 500 deer tags assigned to Outagamie county have been disposed of. The total number of hunters' licenses issued this fall is close to 3,000, the exact number not being known at the county clerk's office as there are several distributing points in the county which have not yet reported.

The deer season opened Sunday, Nov. 21 and will continue for ten days. An automobile containing the carcasses of two deer created a mild sensation on College avenue last Saturday until it was learned that the car was owned by Michigan hunters who possessed Michigan licenses. The deer season in Michigan opens earlier than in Wisconsin.

AUTOISTS OBLIGED TO AVOID BAD HIGHWAYS

Autoists using the country roads are finding it difficult to pass through some stretches since the wet weather started. A truck owned by a local oil company was reported to be stuck for about four hours Monday afternoon on a road in the town of Grand Chute. One farmer having a load of hogs to dispose of stated that he was obliged to take them to Neenah instead of Appleton, because the roads leading into the city were practically impassable.

able. He figured that he could take the entire load on one trip with his automobile truck and return home by noon. He would be obliged to use a team if he wanted to come to Appleton and would find it necessary to drive the load, making two trips and consuming two whole days. It is said that other farmers prefer to sell produce elsewhere rather than pass over the bad roads leading here.

"We were informed a long time ago that we would all be asked to work on the roads this fall and fix them up," said one farmer living in the town of Grand Chute. "This was to be the plan of keeping up the roads in our town, instead of having highway patrolmen. We have been waiting for orders to start the work, but we have never received any."

DENY DISCOVERY OF PLOT TO MURDER LLOYD GEORGE

London.—A report circulated yesterday in America by a news agency, that the Irish office had discovered a plot to assassinate Premier Lloyd George was denied today by the Irish office.

The Irish office denied knowledge of a plot to assassinate the premier and declared that the information it gave out yesterday was the same as was given by Lloyd George himself in his address in the house, which was that there was in existence a highly organized Sinn Fein conspiracy extending even to England.

The report in question was not circulated by the United Press.

ROTARIANS HAVE PROGRAM OF FUN

Weekly Meeting Is Turned Over to Capable Committee of Comedians.

The Rotarians forgot dull care for a while Tuesday noon and turned their weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. into an hour or more of fun. John Stevens, Jr., aided by a committee of clever comedians, "put over" more hilarity than an Rotarian said he ever experienced before.

The "babes," in the person of the 1920 members, were the "goat." They were ushered into the dining room to the "kids' quarters" with a low table and kindergarten chairs. Each had a bib tied under his chin in motherly fashion by the committee members and they were then treated to a menu that they felt sure would not injure "baby's" stomach, bread and milk.

Each "baby" had to act cute and show how "cunning" he could be. The way the overgrown children did it was side-splitting.

Certain Rotary members accused of being "bohevisk" admitted it, retired and reappeared in the true Bohemian garb, and then explained why they were not civilized Americans like the rest. Many other clever innovations were carried out before the mirthful assembly came to an end.

IRISH "REPUBLIC" BONDS FIND MANY BUYERS HERE

They were in a bag when they were turned over to him and he placed them in his automobile and thoughtlessly left the door open. During his absence the turkeys made their escape. By United Press Leased Wire

Daniels has acted under authority from President Wilson. The cable runs from Miami to the Barbados where it connects with a British cable. This connection is given as the reason for refusal of landing.

PACKERS WANT TO REDUCE SALARIES

New Hearing on Stockyards Controversy Ordered by Arbiter.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Due to the general business depression, Judge Samuel Alschuler, arbiter in the wage controversy between packers and their employees, today agreed to re-open the hearing into wage conditions.

Judge Alschuler said that he wouldn't permit any prolonged hearing and his decision is expected in about two weeks.

The decision will affect 200,000 employees. Packers to support their petition for re-opening the hearing in reduced testimony of L. H. Wells, research expert for Swift and company who told of decline in business throughout the country.

"The iron and steel business is the only one which has held up and now it is showing signs of weakening," Wells said.

The witness told of conditions in the textile trades, the leather and shoe business and other lines of industry which he said were operating on greatly lowered scales.

"Unemployment has increased rapidly, especially during the last month," Wells stated.

He added, however, that the lack of jobs had not been felt so much in Chicago and some western cities as in the east. Wells said there had been many business failures recently.

Redmond S. Brennan, attorney representing the employees protested against re-opening the hearings. He declared the packers had ample opportunity to present their case but Judge Alschuler held that the packers were entitled to present evidence of changed conditions.

MANY CLAIMANTS OF GRID HONORS

Pacific Coast Is Only Place
Where Championship Is Really Determined.

(By Henry L. Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Outside of the Pacific coast, where California seems to reign supreme, sectional football champions will run in pairs this season.

Notre Dame and Ohio State can claim the championship of the west, the honors of the east rest between Princeton and either Penn State or Pittsburgh, while Georgia Tech and Virginia Military Institute can quarrel about the title in the south.

Saturday's games in the east were productive of no great surprises or upsets but the Yale-Harvard game did prove the Princeton Tigers are the best of the "big three" and one of the very best in the east.

Penn State and Pittsburgh are entitled to an equal rating with Princeton but one of these will filter out.

Thanksgiving day when they meet in their annual battle. A tie game would give the title to Princeton without dispute.

Ohio State won a clear title to the western conference championship by beating Illinois Saturday. The Buckeyes also lived up to their reputation as one of the greatest finishing teams of modern times by pulling the game out of the fire in the last minute of play. Only a game between Ohio State and Notre Dame would convince the Hoosier following that Gipp and his band are not the best in the west.

With no way of settling the dispute about the relative ability of the two teams it is a matter of opinion and the east favors Notre Dame.

Georgia Tech deserves the title in the south because of a more impressive record over a much harder schedule.

California not only has the championship of the coast safely within her grasp but seems to have one of the best teams developed in her history.

DOOR COUNTY CAN'T GET MONEY BACK

Attorney General Denies Right of Board to Nullify Legislative Act.

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—The county board of Door county exceeded its authority last week when it repealed a resolution passed by the Board June 26, 1919, appropriating $5,000 as its share of the cost of establishing a branch experimental station in Door county. That is in substance the opinion of Deputy Attorney General M. B. O'Brien, in answer to an inquiry from Secretary of State Meritt Hull.

The attention of the Attorney General was called to the statutes which provided:

"Door County Experiment Station. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1919, five thousand dollars, provided that the county board of Door county appropriate a similar amount on or before July 1, 1919, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1920, twelve thousand dollars, to carry out the provisions of section 16,325 (renumbered 16,125)."

That section referred to reads: "The regents of the University are authorized to establish a branch experiment station in Door county for the purpose of carrying on horticultural and agricultural investigations and demonstrations on problems that are designed to aid in the development of the fruit and farm interests of that portion of the state."

On June 16, 1919 the county board of Door county appropriated the $5,000 as required following which the state expended, according to the secretary of state, over $2,000 for the purpose provided for. On Nov. 16, 1920 the Door county board adopted a resolution repealing the adoption of the prior resolution (making the appropriation) and reciting further that the state had made no attempt to establish the said experiment station, nor made any demand for the said appropriation, and then repealed the former resolution and ordered the $5,000 transferred to the general fund for the current expenses of the county.

In his opinion Deputy Attorney General O'Brien states that "assuming that the legislative appropriation referred to was a valid one, the purported resolution of the county board of Door county is a mere nullity, wholly without force or effect."

"This conclusion results from a consideration of the situation from any one of several angles. First of all, the state legislature has appropriated $5,000, such to become effective upon the appropriation of a similar amount by the county board of Door county. Such appropriation having been made by the county board, the consideration attached to the legislative appropriation is fulfilled. To subsequently permit the county board to rescind the resolution, which gave purpose and effect to the legislative appropriation, would result in a situation in substance permitting a mere governmental subdivision to repeal an act of the legislature.

"It would likewise seem that, if the legislature and the county board were viewed as standing upon a footing of equality, the action of the respective bodies partook of the nature of a valid offer and acceptance, and to effectively rescind the action of the county board would now require affirmative evidence of assent to such action by the legislature."

TWO AVIATORS KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE FALLS

INDIAN TRIBE TO KEEP ITS PRESERVE

Bad River People Vote to Retain Apostle Island Fishing Grounds.

Ashland—Refusing by a five to one vote to relinquish their ancient fishing grounds on the Apostle Isles, the Bad River tribe of Chippewa adjourned after having participated in a general council of the tribe. Sixty-six years ago, by the treaty of 1854, 200 acres of land on the northeastern tip of Madeline Island was set aside as a fishing reserve for the whole tribe. The spot was well chosen, adjacent to the fishing shoals between Madeline and Michigan Island, although there have been so many other good fishing grounds that it has seldom been used. As timber became valuable the 500,000 feet of hardwood and hem-

Miss Helene Keller has the honor of receiving the first prize in the essay contest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The title of her essay is "The Effect of Prohibition on our Country." The prize which is $10 was awarded at the W. C. T. U. state convention at Superior. Miss Keller, who graduated from the eighth grade in the Lincoln school last June is a daughter of P. G. W. Keller, former principal of Appleton high school and now serving in the same capacity for the Waubesa high school. Miss Keller won the first prize in the county contest last spring, which made her eligible for the state contest. She will now compete for the national honors. This is the first time that an Appleton eighth grade student has ever won the prize.

The council Thursday was to decide the question whether the tract should be added to the allotted lands, or to leave it as a preserve for future generations. Fully one-half of the council hall at Odanah was filled with women. The women took an active part in the proceedings, voting with the men. The final vote being decisively in favor of retaining the site as a permanent fishing preserve.

NEW WISCONSIN MAP IS DELAYED

Much Difficulty Is Encountered in Issuing New Description of State.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The Railroad Commission is having prepared a new rail map of Wisconsin which will be the most complete and most nearly perfect map ever issued by the state.

In a report to the Commission and to Gov. E. L. Philipp today, C. D. Secheverrell, secretary of the Commission, explains in detail the reasons for the delay in issuing the map which was authorized by Chapter 703, Laws of 1919, which went into effect Aug. 11, 1919. The map, which is to be 36x44 inches, will scale 10 miles to the inch and for the first time the section lines will be shown in each county.

Under the provision of the law the Railroad Commission was authorized to purchase a lithographic stone or metal plate to be the property of the state from which successive editions of the map could be printed biennially. It was learned there are but two lithographic stones engraved of the state in existence, both owned by lithographic houses in Milwaukee, who refused to sell them. Therefore specifications were prepared by the engineering department for a new map but map engravers and publishers generally were unwilling to bid on furnishing the engraved stone or plates.

After personal visits to the largest map publishing concerns in the country in Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Washington, and consultation with Chief Map Engraver S. J. Kubel, of the United States Geological Survey, it was decided that the original engravings should be on copper plates, which can be most easily safeguarded and protected, permitting a finer quality of engraving and being more readily corrected if changes are required in the future.

In preparing the details for the new map it was found upon comparing former maps with the state and United States Geological surveys and land office maps, many inaccuracies were discovered. Records of all state and federal surveys, both topographical and geological, and office records and county maps and atlases were freely consulted and the final copy was ready for the bidders last April. The contract was awarded May 11 to the Topographical Engraving Co., Washington, and delivery of the plates was promised in six and one-half months. However, first a strike in the rolling mills for copper plates and then a strike of the engravers delayed the work several weeks. Then the engravers working on the plates were taken ill and finally the foreman was injured—in an accident and laid up two months, so the plates cannot be delivered before January. In the meantime the Commission to expedite matters arranged with the Printing Board for the purchase of the paper for the maps, a heavy coated paper with cloth back. This, it was found would cost 42 cents for each map and the appropriation available would only allow for 11,000 maps, while under the statutes each legislator is entitled to 100 making a legislative requirement of 13,300 maps.

"The principal demand for the maps at the present time," says the report, "comes from the members of the legislature for the 100 maps to which each member is entitled. Even though the new map was completed and a stock on hand at the present time, the members of the legislature would not receive their allotment as there is no appropriation available to provide their maps. There was appropriated for the purchase of the plates and publishing of the map $15,000 which will procure but 11,000 maps. Those must be distributed as provided by statute.

"The provision under which the Legislature is entitled to 100 maps each is contained in Subsection 13a of Section 35.34 and provides for 100 maps each of the Highway wall map, the Highway folded map and the Railroad map. To provide these maps there was appropriated $25,000 to the Highway Commission. The highway maps have been furnished at a cost in excess of $21,000, leaving less than $2,000 available for the furnishing of the 13,300 maps, the paper alone for which will cost more than $5,000."

It is now expected that the plates will be ready for the printer probably by the latter part of January and that the legislature, early in the coming session, will make an additional appropriation to cover the cost of the new maps. However, a majority of the members of the 1919 session of the legislature, which provided for the publication of the new map will have been succeeded in office by that time and may not be able to get the maps for distribution that they have promised their constituents. That will be a question for the new legislature to decide.

LA CROSSE UNION MEN PLAN LABOR TEMPLE

La Crosse—At a massmeeting of union men, the Trades and Labor council decided to purchase Yeoman hall, a large, three-story building adjoining the market square, and convert it into a labor temple. The council has an option for $24,000 and the money will be raised by subscriptions from unionists. It is planned to have each man in La Crosse holding a union card subscribe for two shares at $10 per share. It is proposed to install club rooms and a library. The large hall on the second floor will be rented for dances and public gatherings, and smaller rooms will be utilized for union meetings.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM ENDS ITS SEASON

Evidence that the advertising committee of the senior auction at the high school is active is to be seen in the posters which appear in the windows of stores on College avenue. The posters are conspicuous for their artistic qualities, and all of them are the work of the members of the school. Special attention is being attracted by the drawings of Leona Hegner.

The activity of the committee in the school has resulted in making the building a maze of guides and advisory signs, which force the attention on the members of the school.

In addition to the poster work the committee is attending to all the publicity in the papers, and in the various organizations and downtown clubs, as well as at the college. The membership of the advertising committee follows: Catherine Corbett, chairman; Leona Hegner, Robert Stedman, Ralph McGowan, Arthur Dimick, Lenore Schwartz.

PIMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look.

GREEN BAY RESIDENTS ASK WAR AGAINST RATS

Green Bay—Dr. Frank J. Gosin, city health officer, declared that rat killing was not in his jurisdiction and referred complaining residents of the "hill" to the city council, with the suggestion that the aldermen might rid the city of rodents by offering a few cents bounty on every one killed. Dr. Gosin declared that the rats carried no disease germs here as far as he knew and that it was not a health problem.

Owners of handsome homes on the "hill" had complained that the rats were multiplying in their basements and had become so bold as to race across the lawns and climb the stairs into the living rooms. Business men are frantic in attempts to curb the rats, which have made inroads on provisions stored in basements. They have been seen playing tag in the show windows of some of the best stores.

Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Williams will entertain a number of relatives over Thanksgiving, among them being Mr. and Mrs. William Hooper and Miss Gladys Hooper, Palmyra; Eva Hooper, Antigo; and Walter Williams, Madison.

Tax Rate In Appleton Will Be Lower Than A Year Ago

Council Rejects Plan to Centralize Fire Department in One Building.

State and county taxes will be higher this year, but the average tax for the city of Appleton will be lower, according to the tax levy adopted by the common council at an adjourned meeting Monday evening. The figures indicate that the city tax rate will be low enough to offset the county and state increases and still fall below last year's rate.

The complete figures were read by City Clerk Williams, who also presented comparisons by districts of the rates a year ago and the rates this year. The school levy was increased in most districts, but the levy for general expenses was well below the 1919 figures. The complete figures and comparisons are to be published as soon as they are put in final shape.

Fred Hoeppner and Sons was awarded the contract for building a new fire station in the fourth ward, after considerable discussion on the centralization idea. The company's bid was $8,730. The plumbing bid of Wenzel & Gmeiner was also accepted, amounting to $647. The Hoffman Construction company's bid was lower than the Hoeppner figures, but it was said that it did not contain all the work embodied in the specifications.

Could Effect Saving Alderman Laabs opened the discussion by pointing out the saving in expense if all the fire companies were under one roof. He said there was no need for companies in the third and fourth wards with the motorized apparatus and that if the two-platoon system were adopted there would not be enough men to man each piece of apparatus if kept in separate houses.

Referring to the possibility of a bridge on Lake street being open, he said an alarm could be installed that would warn the bridge tender every time the department was coming to the fourth ward. He suggested that the centralized system be tried until spring, because building would be cheaper by that time.

Alderman Wood believed it possible to dispense with the third ward department but not with the fourth

COLLEGE JOURNALISTS TO ATTEND MEETING

Several prominent Lawrence College Journalists will attend the Intercollegiate Press Association Convention at Milwaukee Dec. 3 and 4. Dean W. L. Lindsay, instructor in English; Garfield Day, editor of the Lawrencean; Frank Williams, business manager of the Lawrencean; and Paul Corr, make up editor will probably attend the conference. A committee will decide which of the many college journals in the state is the best. The Lawrencean won the honors last year.

Marquette University and Milwaukee-Downer will be the hosts at the convention. Friday evening the guests will be entertained at a reception. The delegates will visit newspaper offices Saturday morning. A round table conference is scheduled for the afternoon. Prominent newspaper men of the state will talk. The journalists will be entertained at a theatre party Saturday evening.

ward, on account of plans for a large hospital.

Wants Protection Alderman McGillan quoted Chief McGillan's statement that he would prefer companies in different houses under the two-platoon system. If adopted, he believed that neither the taxpayers nor the city should be in jeopardy. He mentioned two instances this summer where the gears on both the Lake and John street bridges were stripped and it took several hours to make repairs.

"The council of the city of Appleton should give the chief of the fire department the men he wants and make his department as adequate and efficient as possible. The taxpayers would be kicked because we are giving them protection," Alderman McGillan stated. He also added that a number of the fourth ward taxpayers were present and had presented a petition asking for the fire station in their ward.

Alderman Mayer contended that the east end of the fourth ward had been left out of consideration in the location of the fire station. He said companies from number one house could reach that section of the ward sooner than the fourth ward company. In case of repairs to the bridge, he argued that one piece of apparatus could be quartered beyond the bridge for the time being.

Try Platoon System Alderman Hanson suggested that now would be a good time to try out the two platoon system. It could be worked until spring and the building could then be erected. If the plan failed, the motion by Alderman Wood to accept the Hoeppner and Wenzel and Gmeiner bids was adopted by a vote of six to five.

A communication from the Homan Auto company regarding the city's aid in keeping some of the roads open this winter was referred to the committee on streets and bridges, together with the district attorney. The city engineer was directed to construct a 90 foot stretch of sewer on Harrison street.

ROOM PRICES IN MADISON FALLING

Survey Report Says That There Will Be Plenty of Rooms by January.

Madison—War has been declared upon profiteering landlords by the University of Wisconsin. A campaign is being waged by the dean of women working in conjunction with the dean of men.

Prices probably have never before attained such heights as now. A thorough investigation of conditions was undertaken by the university authorities a year ago after the sudden great increase in enrollment, and a similar study has been made this fall. Dean L. Louise Nardin has announced that all the facts are now in hand concerning women students.

"Prices for rooms charged university students, and women in particular, were irregular this year," she said. "The great demand last year had the natural result of raising prices. This summer two elements were again tending to increase prices. One was the indefinite cost of fuel and labor, and in some cases rent, and the other was the expectation of a still greater demand for rooms this year.

Double Room $10 a Week "Our survey shows," she continued, "that about two hundred fifty of the 2,427 women in the university this year engaged their rooms at the rate of $10 a week for double rooms and $6 a week for single rooms. In fifty of these rooms, the students are expected to furnish their own linen. These prices the university regards as too high except for rooms that are in every way unusual, and where everything is furnished for the students.

"We can now say with certainty," she stated, "that these conditions will be satisfactory changed by next semester, and that there will be rooms enough for all without using the higher priced rooms."

Two hundred and fifty dollars a year was the price found to be charged girls at one prominent rooming house for half of a small room. Forty girls stayed at this house, and the gross receipts, enjoyed by the housemother by that reckoning totaled exactly $10,000 a year.

URGES USE OF TRADE ACCEPTANCE HERE

Chamber of Commerce Asked to Help Improve American Credit Methods.

The chamber of commerce is receiving correspondence from the east which indicates that the use of the "trade acceptance" in business is growing. An organization known as the American Acceptance association has been formed at New York, primarily to encourage the use of this method of paying accounts.

The association has prepared a series of pamphlets on bankers' and trade acceptances, with the aid of federal reserve bank officials, business men and bankers. The literature provides an educational campaign which will show business men how to use the trade acceptance. It is believed that better credit and merchandising methods will result. The trade acceptance is simply a receipt for goods sold by a wholesaler or merchant to a customer, containing a stipulation that the buyer will pay the account on a certain date at the bank of his preference. The man who must sell the goods on credit therefore has something to offer his banker as collateral so he can secure the necessary funds to carry on his business until his customer meets the bill.

The advantage of the trade acceptance is that it enables the merchant to discount his bills and secure additional credit from his wholesale house. The acceptance is negotiable in a similar way to a promissory note, and can be renewed in case the man who gave it is unable to pay on the date specified. It is said that it would be used to greater advantage if better understood.

EARLY MAILING OF PARCELS IS URGED

Postoffice Appeals to Public for Co-operation in Holiday Rush.

The postoffice has received copy of an appeal issued by the department at Washington for the greatest possible cooperation between the public and the mailing forces to avert any disappointments in the delivery of Christmas parcels.

The bulletin contains many pointed suggestions which will expedite the mail service if observed. It urges early mailing to avoid the last minute congestion. Patrons are permitted to place on packages the wording, "do not open until Christmas, 'Merry Christmas,' 'Happy New Year,' 'Best Wishes' or similar forms of greeting, which will warn the receiver of the gift that it is sent early with the idea of forethought and will be laid away until December 25.

Not only must packages bear the address plainly written and on some part of the parcel where it will not be torn off, but the sender must put his name and address in one corner. The number and street is not enough. The name must also be added, according to the rules. Postage must be prepaid in full.

Proper wrapping of parcels is also urged. Presents wrapped in tissue paper should have an outer wrapper of a heavier material. Packages should be securely and tightly tied, but should not be sealed, otherwise letter postage will be charged. Fragile articles should be carefully packed to protect them against breakage when mail sacks are thrown.

The department urges the insuring of all valuable packages. Letters or other personal messages may accompany a package, but these must be placed in an envelope with postage affixed the same as any letter, and the envelope fastened securely to the outside of the package. The regular parcel post rate must be paid for the package in addition.

Those who send packages to soldiers in Germany or other distant places, or to friends or relatives in foreign countries are urged by the postoffice to mail them before December 1 so they will reach their destination by Christmas.

The Stage

Fiske O'Hara Here Next The love theme of a play, or as it is usually termed "heart interest," is recognized as one of the prime factors in making the piece a success. A play without a love story might just as well go out of business, as an auto without its gasoline. Anna Nichols Duffy in writing "Springtime in Mayo," for Fiske O'Hara, America's favorite actors-singer, whom Augustus Pitou Inc. presents at the Appleton Theatre, Nov. 23, well determined that her work would not lack this important element of success for she utilized the most novel and original love story in the weaving of the plot. "Springtime in Mayo" as will be observed from the title, has its scenes in Ireland. It is alive with real people, ripples through three acts of absorbing interest and ends delightfully. It serves admirably as an instrument for the display of Mr. O'Hara's ingratiating manner and personality. As usual, he will be conspicuously successful with the new songs that have been provided for him.

THIS OSHKOSH RESIDENT CALLS KOZAK "SPLENDID"

Another Kozak verdict! This time it's Fred J. Reiter, 229 High street, the well known repair man who is employed by the Soo Line, in Oshkosh. Mr. Reiter, who is a popular member of the B. R. C. A., said Wednesday:

"For the past two years I have suffered from stomach trouble. I've tried everything in my effort to get relief but not until I recently began taking this Kozak did I get any relief whatever. I could seldom eat a meal without suffering from pain and a boated feeling afterwards. I was getting rather discouraged until a friend recommended Kozak so highly I decided to give it a trial.

"Well, Kozak got rid of my indigestion. As a result of taking it I feel much stronger and vigorous, never feeling tired and worn out as before. My food digests right and I never suffer pain after eating. Kozak has given me plenty of ambition, too. It is a splendid tonic and I certainly do recommend it."

Kozak, called the "Master Medicine," because it seems to quickly master stomach, kidney, liver and catarrhal troubles when all else has failed, is now being exclusively introduced and explained at Schlitz Bros., corner College avenue and Oneida streets, by the Kozak man in person, daily and evenings.

DEAR OLD BOY PETE!

This corner of the U. S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus Hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star State! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party coins Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm 'set'! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (NOW LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Sincerely

Shorty.

P. S.—Between you and me I'll be gazing at tall buildings and things around 43d and Broadway—N-E-W Y-O-R-K—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!

WHERE THE MONEY MUST COME FROM.

Telephone facilities did not keep pace with growth, during the war, because the government put strict limits on new construction. Now labor and materials are high.

During war time, if the government income from telephone service did not pay the bills, Uncle Sam went down in his pocket and made out the deficit out of taxes.

It is really much fairer for the user of the telephone, who gets the benefit, to pay what the service is worth.

Improvements must keep pace with the public's demands, and there is no way for the Telephone Company to get the money to pay for them, except by an increase of rates.

Increased facilities increase the value of the service to every subscriber.

TAKES PAIN OUT OF RHEUMATISM

Keep Sloan's handy for backache strains and sprains, too

SLOAN'S Liniment has been sold for 39 years. Today, it is more popular than ever. There can be but one answer—Sloan's produces results.

Applied without rubbing, it penetrates to the afflicted part, bringing relief from rheumatic twinges, sciatica, sore, stiff, strained muscles, backache, sprains, and other external pains, often the result of exposure. It leaves no mussiness, skin stain or clogged pores.

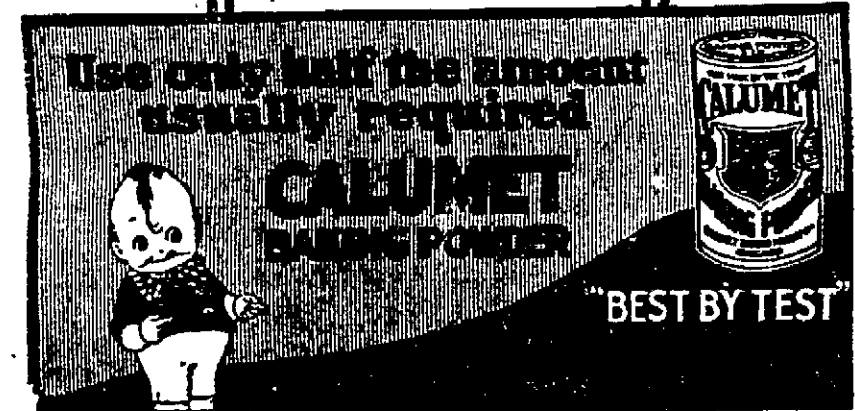

Get a large bottle for greater economy. Keep it handy for use when needed. Your druggist has it. Three sizes—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment (Pain's enemy)

YOU don't use as much of Calumet as you do of most other Baking Powders. It has more than ordinary leavening strength. You save about half.

You don't pay a big price for Calumet. It's sold at a moderate price—that represents another saving.

You don't feel uncertain as to results. Baking never fails, because Calumet never falls below the proven standard of "Best by Test."

It possesses the highest quality ever put into a Baking Powder. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by United States Food Authorities.

For weeks, for months, it keeps as fresh and full of strength as the day it left the Calumet Factories, the World's Largest, most Sanitary and Modern Baking Powder plants.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Gold Cake Recipe Yolks of 8 eggs, 1 1/4 cups of granulated sugar, 2/3 cup of water, 1/2 cup of butter, 2 1/2 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon of vanilla. Then mix in the regular way.

Strange Discoveries About Our Heart's Electricity

Science Finds That It Generates Three Distinct Currents, Which Record Exactly the Organ's Troubles That Medicine Previously Could Not Diagnose

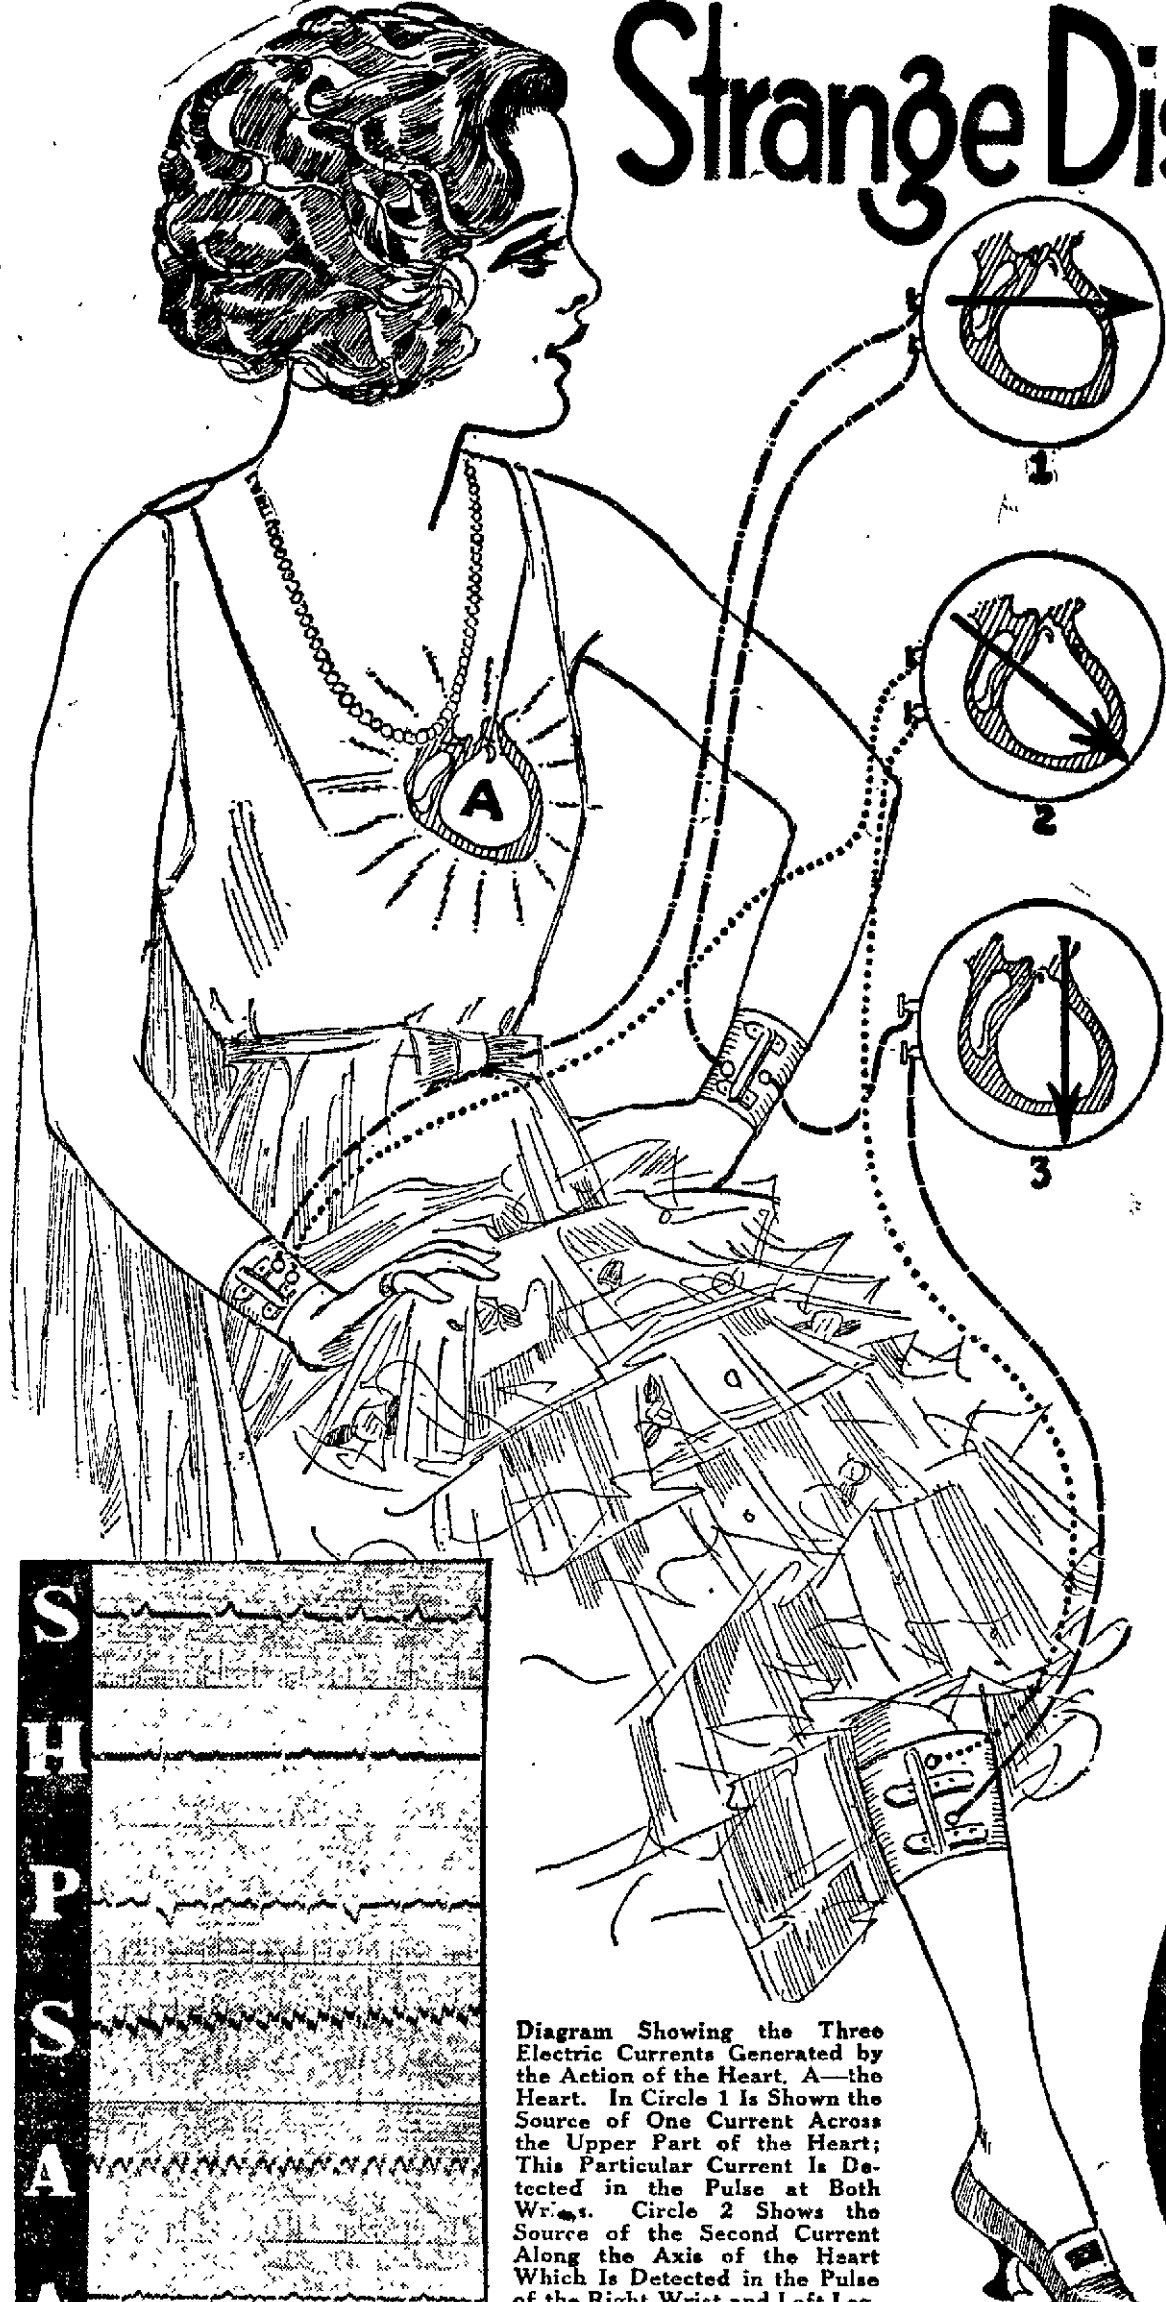

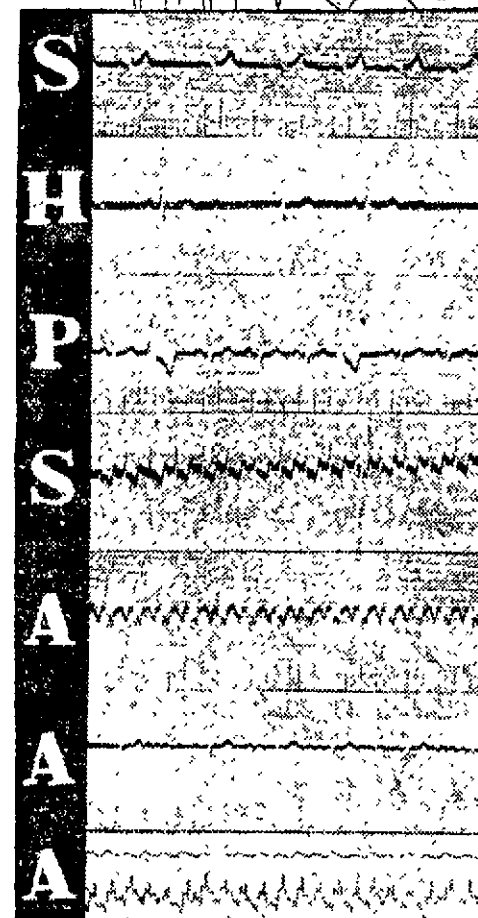

Diagram Showing the Three Electric Currents Generated by the Action of the Heart. A—the Heart. In Circle 1 is Shown the Source of One Current Across the Upper Part of the Heart. This Particular Current is Detected in the Pulse at Both Wrist. Circle 2 Shows the Source of the Second Current Along the Axis of the Heart Which is Detected in the Pulse of the Right Wrist and Left Leg. Circle 3 Shows the Third Current, Principally from the Left Segment of the Heart, Which is Detected at the Left Wrist and Left Leg. The Drawing is Adapted from Photographic Diagrams in Dr. Louis Faugeres Bishop's Remarkable Book, "Heart Troubles: Their Prevention and Relief," Published by Funk & Wagnalls.

The Tracings of the Heart Currents Which Show the Seven Standardized Types of Heart Affections.

PERHAPS the most important recent discovery about the human heart is that it generates a large amount of electricity of its own.

In fact there are three distinct electric currents running from the heart. By making a record of these currents, called an "electro-cardiogram," it is possible to know positively whether a heart is healthy or what form of irregularity affects it.

Most people know that the heart is the most essential organ and that it is the most overworked muscle of the body. The greatest cause of death is heart disease. Everybody fears heart trouble sooner or later in his life and becomes worried about its symptoms. Yet with all the anxiety and thought on the subject there is very little definite knowledge as to what constitutes serious heart trouble. For instance, a strong or weak pulse does not, as most people think, prove that you have a strong or weak heart.

The lack of general knowledge concerning heart troubles is not surprising, as doctors until recently had no certainty in reading the heart's action. All this has been changed by the discovery of the heart's electric currents.

Dr. Louis Faugeres Bishop, professor of heart and circulatory diseases, in Fordham University, explains in a new book the remarkable services which are performed by the new electric recording instruments in diagnosing heart conditions and showing how they should be treated. Dr. Bishop's book is entitled "Heart Troubles: Their Relief and Prevention" (Funk & Wagnalls).

The three electric currents from the heart are:—a small current caused by the contraction and working of the auricle, which receives the blood; a sharp, quick current caused by the beating of the ventricle, which pumps the blood on; and a third, sluggish wave caused by the contraction of the ventricle.

The electric currents are collected by wires attached to the hands and feet of the person undergoing examination. The heart beat comprises a three-fold operation, each part of which produces a separate current. The auricle has but one phase—a slow contraction pushing the blood into the ventricle. The action of the ventricle is divided into two phases. The first phase is a sharp contraction upon the contained blood, and the second phase is a firm, slow continuation of the primary phase, or sharp contraction, pushing the blood out of the heart.

The first current is called the P current, which represents the contraction of the auricles. The second current is called the R current and represents the contraction of the ventricles. The third current produces the T wave, representative of the work of the ventricles.

The wonderful instrument, called the electro-cardiograph, shows which part of the heart acts first, and which part acts later during all the various combinations that arise as impulses are generated in one part of the heart or another.

If the ventricle acts before the auricle we see in the record the high, sharp current in the form of a church steeple coming before the little, high mound that is characteristic of the current from the auricle.

If the impulse stops at the top of the ventricle and moves to the apex of the heart, we see the current moving in one direction and the church steeple pointing upward. If, on the other hand, the impulse starts at the apex of the ventricle and journeys toward its base, we have the current travelling in the opposite direction and the church steeple pointing downward. These constitute common disorders of the heart and can only be clearly revealed by the electro-cardiograph.

If the heart does not produce sufficient electric force, normally, either it or some other important organ is not right, and this ingenious instrument quickly reveals the presence of trouble.

It is naturally the clearest indicator of the condition of the heart itself. If the physician finds that the curves P and T are very low, he knows at once that the person's heart is weak. If R, instead of rising above the horizontal lines, falls below them, he is sure that the patient is suffering from neurosis of the heart. If T falls below the horizontal lines, then it is a certain indication of arterio-sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries.

There are seven varieties of irregular heart beats that form the basis of functional heart trouble. These are called (1) Sinus arrhythmia, (2) heart block, (3) premature contractions, (4) simple paroxysmal tachycardia, (5) auricular flutter, (6) auricular fibrillation, and (7) alternation of the pulse.

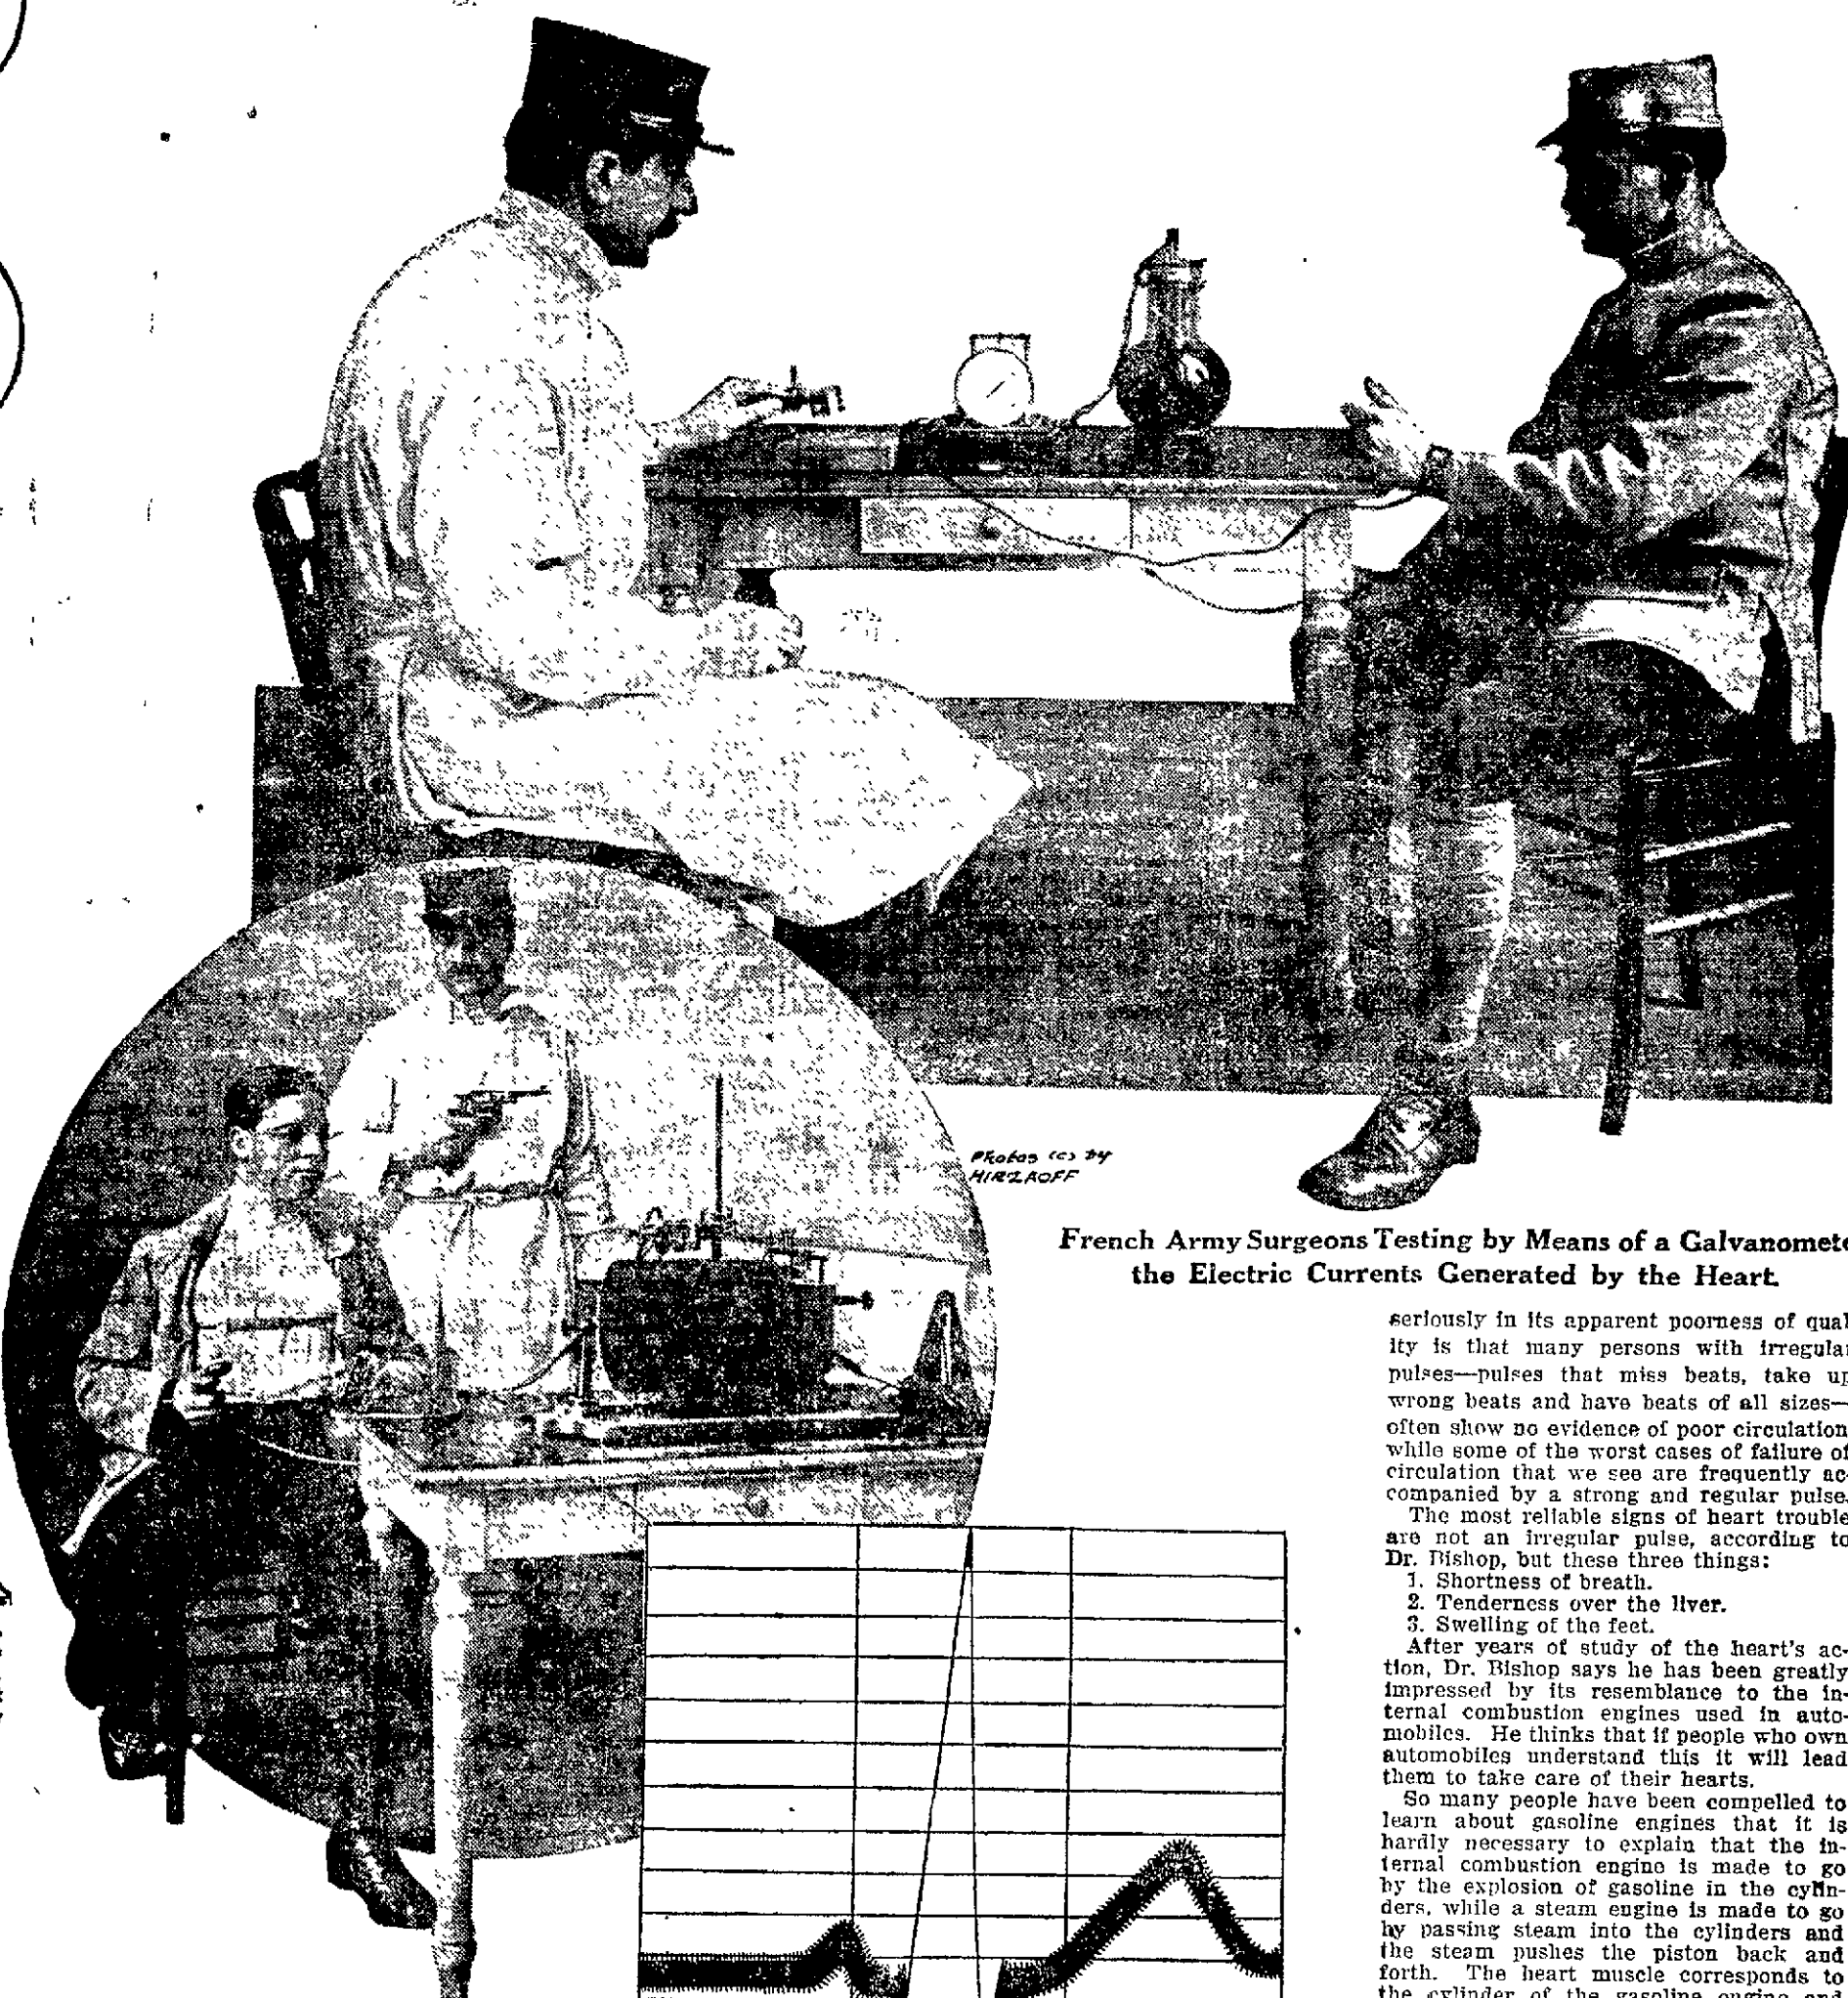

A record by the electro-cardiograph will show immediately which of these irregularities affects a patient's heart.

What makes the heart beat? This is another important matter concerning which science is making new discoveries. The question seems so simple that the answer ought to be found by turning over the pages of any book on physiology, but until recently it has been unanswered. There have been two great classes of those who have tried to solve this question. One set of men believed that the origin of the heart beat is in the nerves, and later on another set believed that it was in the muscle. It seems now that neither of them was right, but that the cause of the heart beat is really found in the chemistry of the heart.

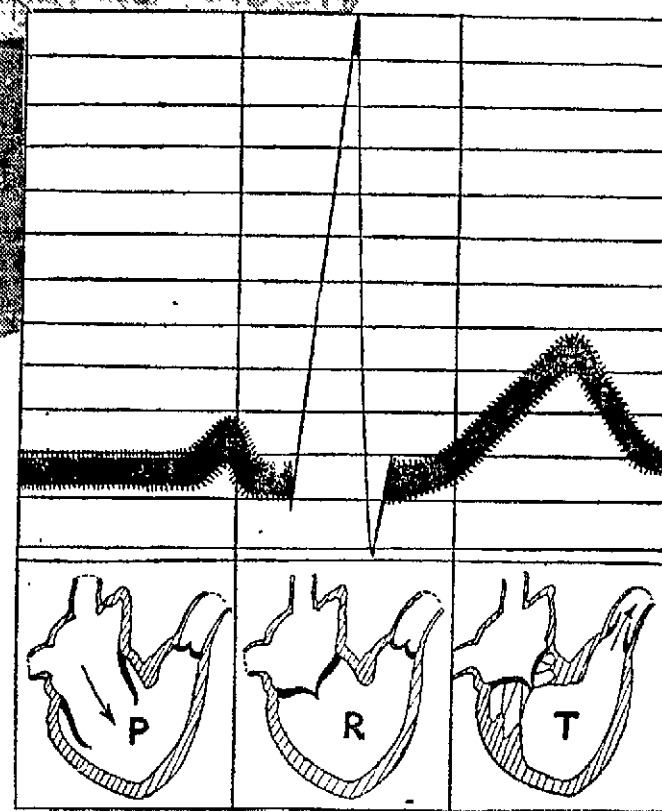

"The best explanation of modern times," says Dr. Bishop, "is that there is some substance, the nature of which we do not entirely understand, that is constantly being formed in certain parts of the heart, and when this substance accumulates in a certain amount it generates the beat of the heart. When the heart beats this substance is used up, and another beat does not happen until enough of it is formed again. In that way we have a continuously acting cause producing an intermittent action."

Now, there is one spot in the heart where the beat ought to start and spread

Analytical Diagram Showing the Electric Flow of the Three Currents as Recorded by the Mechanism. P is the Current Representing the Contraction of the Auricles. over the whole organ, but sometimes this chemical activity acts in other places and we have the heart beat generating sometimes in one part of the heart and sometimes in another. Naturally this results in great disorders, and the study of these disorders constitutes an interesting chapter in what we know about the heart.

Nearly all the muscles of the body are balanced against each other, so that one group of muscles pulls against the other and keeps everything steady and in shape. If a muscle becomes paralyzed its opposing muscle draws the limb out of shape. So, when a child has infantile paralysis and some of the muscles are paralyzed, great care is necessary to prevent ever-increasing deformity.

The heart is a muscle, and its size depends upon the tone of the muscle of which it is made up. The tone of the muscle of the heart and of the muscles which surround all the blood vessels is closely associated with the tone of the muscles that we use to move our limbs and bodies. For this reason a great resource in regulating and controlling the condition of the heart and blood vessels in health and disease is found in exercise and those things which affect the voluntary muscles.

Blood pressure is really pressure on the blood by the contraction of the walls of the hollow places in which it is contained—just as if you held something tightly in your hand and then closed your hand firmly upon it, or just as when you squeeze the bulb of a syringe you increase the pressure inside of it. In the same way, low blood pressure exists when there is a corresponding relaxation. Dr. Bishop explains that high and low blood pressure are not necessarily dangerous, and that high pressure in particular is a condition which often arises to correct some other bodily defect—such as weak kidneys—and we should be glad we have it.

The nature of the pulse is another point concerning which many wrong ideas prevail. Persons of experience learn to tell certain things by feeling the pulse—such as whether it is nearly normal, whether it is extremely weak or very strong. While many people believe they can tell a good deal by feeling the pulse, the fact is that the meaning of the pulse is difficult to determine, and even those who have spent their lives in studying it at times are misled. The beat of the pulse is simply a wave that comes from the movement of the heart and has nothing to do with the actual flow of the blood.

Another fact that shows that the condition of the pulse must not be taken too seriously in its apparent poorness of quality is that many persons with irregular pulses—pulses that miss beats, take up wrong beats and have beats of all sizes—often show no evidence of poor circulation, while some of the worst cases of failure of circulation that we see are frequently accompanied by a strong and regular pulse.

The most reliable signs of heart trouble are not an irregular pulse, according to Dr. Bishop, but these three things:

1. Shortness of breath.
2. Tenderness over the liver.
3. Swelling of the feet.

After years of study of the heart's action, Dr. Bishop says he has been greatly impressed by its resemblance to the internal combustion engines used in automobiles. He thinks that if people who own automobiles understand this it will lead them to take care of their hearts.

So many people have been compelled to learn about gasoline engines that it is hardly necessary to explain that the internal combustion engine is made to go by the explosion of gasoline in the cylinders, while a steam engine is made to go by passing steam into the cylinders and the steam pushes the piston back and forth. The heart muscle corresponds to the cylinder of the gasoline engine and gets its energy from the combustion of food products.

When a gasoline engine has had a single explosion in the cylinders nothing more can happen until sufficient time has elapsed for more gasoline to be taken in. In the meantime, there being no gasoline present, nothing happens. In the same way a stroke of the heart is followed by a period during which, no matter how much it is stimulated, it will not work. In other words, with each stroke of the heart all its available energy is used up, and more must be produced before it can beat again. The beating of the heart, therefore, consists of a succession of explosions of energy, just as each throb of the automobile engine represents an explosion of gasoline in its cylinders.

To get good results for an engine we need pure gasoline, a proper mixture of air, regular ignition and a constant load. If you throw out your clutch suddenly when your engine is speeding up it races; if you overload it it pounds. The same thing is true with your heart. To get the best results we must have a proper supply of the right kind of food products, neither too much nor too little. We must have also the kinds that burn up and leave no residue.

The impulse generator of the heart lies normally in the auricle and acts much like the commutator of the engine, which should send an average of seventy impulses a minute, and these impulses should spread quickly over the heart, causing it to contract and do its work.

The blood pressure, like the load on the engine, must not be too low, because that makes the heart palpitate, or race, and it must not be too high, because that makes the heart labor or knock.

If you want to find out whether a particular food is good to produce energy in the heart burn it up and see how much heat you can get out of it. If it produces little heat and a bad smell it is not good food to make the heart do its work well, just as heavy crude oil is not good to use in an automobile.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretion and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.
It's marvelous how quickly it acts.
Blessed relief often comes in two days,
and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schlitz, Bros. Company, Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy to guarantee it in every instance.

dents look upon an unsuccessful
coach.

Ed Jones was cited in mid-season
last year as the Moses to lead Yale's squad out of her bog. Jones didn't do it this year. Yale had a disastrous season and Jones' statue at the head of the department is uncertain.

Larry Bankhart, last year's coach at Colgate, Foster Sanford, football coach at Rutgers and Chet La Roche, freshman coach, are being named as his successors.

Did Dolbe went to Cornell this year and made an early season sensation out of a lot of non-descript talent.
Then the bumps came and the students started yelling. They could find nothing faulty in his work but they set upon him for not allowing the team to elect a captain.

John H. Smith, former coach of Georgia Tech started out in the same whirlwind fashion at Pomona. But his machine floundered after the half way mark and he is running the gauntlet of criticism.

Rob Kolwell, new tutor of the navy, lost two big games but he seems fortunate in having a constituency that will bear up under anything if they are given a victory over the army.

In the west where they seem less inclined to shift about and the football administrations seems almost permanent.

Pick Five Lawrence Men For All State Eleven

Three Lawrence Backfield Men Selected by Milwaukee Grid Expert.

Five of the eleven men picked as members of an "all state" team by Clarence G. Abendroth, Milwaukee football expert, are members of the Lawrence college eleven, champions of the "Little Five." Three Lawrence backfield men were given positions on the honorary team. They are Kubitz, Pond and Elliot. The other two members are McGlynn tackle, and Smith, center.

Four Lawrence men were given positions on the second all state team.
They are Wheeler, end; Wheeler, tackle; Doering, end, and Basing, quarterback.

Selections of Mr. Abendroth do not fit in well with a team that would be chosen by several Appleton men who have seen all the state college teams in action.

Mr. Abendroth's honorary eleven
are as follows:

FIRST TEAM
R. E. Schneider, Ripon.
R. T. McGlynn, Lawrence.
R. G. Emich, Ripon.
C. Smith, Lawrence.
L. T. Borchardt, Carroll.
L. G. Logan, Beloit.
L. E. Shafer, Ripon.
Q. B. Gustin, Ripon (Cap.).
R. H. Kubitz, Lawrence.
L. H. Elliott, Lawrence.
F. B. Pond, Lawrence.

SECOND TEAM
R. E. Wheeler, Lawrence.
R. T. Wheeler, Lawrence.
R. G. Fehlandt, Ripon.
C. Christianson, Carroll.
L. G. Ruth, Beloit.
L. T. Trantow, Ripon.
L. E. Doering, Lawrence.
Q. B. Basing, Lawrence.
R. H. Badingaugh, Beloit.
L. H. Shafer, Ripon (Cap.).
F. B. Jerde, Ripon.

Mr. Abendroth's reasons for selecting his team follow:

"Following my annual custom of choosing an all-state team for The Post-Excerpt, I find that this year it is no easy task to select mythical eleven as many stars were developed in the Wisconsin Little Five and the Badger conference finished one of the best seasons ever witnessed.

Lawrence finished in first place and had in all around team. Ripon finished second and had a good team, but it was weak in spots and injuries played havoc with the team. The Carroll finished in third place. Mills had a wonderful set of halfbacks, but a weak line failed to turn results.
Carroll and Northwestern failed to show up in any way.

Must Be Well Balanced
In selecting honorary eleven, the aim is to pick well balanced teams that could execute close and open attacks with equal success. They must also be furnished with good punters, open field runners, line plungers, passers and receivers of passes. Defensive ability is also an important factor.
Many players on the weaker teams would no doubt have played better had they been on the stronger eleven.

As and end Schneider, Ripon, is in a class by himself. His uncanny way of taking passes from Gustin and Tscher made him high scorer of the conference. His weight also makes him power on defense. Shafer, Ripon, is given the other position over Doering, Lawrence. Shafer is the best defensive end in the conference and a valuable man on offense. Doering is a sure drop kicker, but not equal to Shafer as an end. Wheeler, Lawrence, is the other end of the team, while Wilburn, Beloit, and Uetzman, Northwestern, deserve mention.

In the tackle positions McGlynn,
Lawrence, proved the best. Borchardt, Carroll, while on a losing team, played a good all around game and deserves a place. Trantow, Ripon, while playing some in the backfield, is given a second tackle berth. He is a real fighter and sure winner wherever he plays. It's about a toss up between Wheeler, Lawrence, and Basing, Ripon, for the other tackle. Spahr, Carroll, and Brumm, Lawrence, deserve honorable mention. Injuries handicapped both from doing their best.

Good guards were not so plentiful.
Basing, Ripon, is a heavy, shifty guard who did the line work for his team. Logan, Beloit, is given the other position for his aggressiveness and ability to obtain results. He played in several line positions.
Hunting, Lawrence, Fehlandt, Ripon, Ruth, Beloit, and Ketchum, Lawrence, all proved steady men.

Toss Up at Center
For center it again is a toss up between Smith, Lawrence, and Christianson, Carroll. Smith had the advantage of being supported by a stronger team.

For quarter, Gustin, Ripon, is in a class by himself and is a superior in any department of the game. His wonderful leadership gives him the honor as captain of the team. Basing,
Lawrence, comes next to Gustin.
While mention must go to Haugen,
Carroll, and Johnson, Lawrence.

The halfbacks are given to Lawrence. Elliot is easily the star of the backs. Kubitz, Lawrence, Usher, Ripon and Badingaugh, Beloit, all played sensational games and have about equal honor to the other possible. Algeo, Beloit, Aker, Carroll, and Lunde, Ripon, are all good halfbacks.

Pond, Lawrence, is chosen for fullback. He is a wonderful line plunger and his punting makes him a mountain on defense. Jerde, Ripon, is a sure gainer and beats out McDonald, Beloit, for the other berth. Had Trantow, Ripon, played at full during the entire season, he would have to be considered in selection of the all-state full back.

TIGER EAGER FOR ANOTHER BATTLE

Princeton Would Like to Tackle Harvard Again This Season.

New York.—This is the happiest day Princeton has known in many a long year.

Stripping aside all the propaganda and traditional bunk attached to the annual Harvard-Yale football game, and viewing it from an impersonal and unbiased standpoint, the game that 30,000 supporters of crimson and blue witnessed in Yale bowl on Saturday provided no better brand of football than any one of half a dozen other struggles in various parts of the country.

Harvard is entitled to a kindly pat on the back for using a consistent—though perfectly obvious—method of play which varied little from the ultra-conservative style of other years. Yale is entitled to the customary salute accorded a beaten team that didn't use everything it did have in a tough but futile defense.

Princeton therefore has a clear claim to the title as between the so-called Big Three.

Princeton would like to play a postseason game—an unheard of event—against Harvard. Tradition will prevent it, which is a good thing. No post-season game could determine any more completely than it has already been determined the relative merits of the Tiger and Harvard. It would, however, be highly interesting and entertaining to watch the Cambridge men in a real intersectional contest.

MENT for 35 cents a large box and I say to these druggists, if anyone buys any ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and are not benefited, give them their money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, beets, sore nipples, broken breast,

THIS WILL BENEFIT APPLETON WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months, causing gas on the stomach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple blackthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlers-ka. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, Adlers-ka removes matter you never thought was

STOCKS RALLY IN
TODAY'S TRADINGThousands of Shares of General Motors Sell at Advanced Prices.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The stock market opened buoyantly today, with no evidence of the slump which marked trading during the last few days.

Stocks continue their upward trend which started with announcement yesterday that the Pulp & S. had purchased 3,000,000 shares in General Motors.

Opening prices included:
U. S. Steel 84, up ½; Rubber 87½, up 1; Crucible 99½, up 3½; Corn Products 74½, up ½; Studebaker 48½, up 1; Northern Pacific 38½, up ½; Sinclair 27½, up ½; Atlantic Gulf 11½, up ½; General Electric 130, up 3½.

General Motors was the big feature of the opening. Fifteen thousand shares were sold at prices ranging from 16½ to 17½, up ½ to 1½.

The whole steel group acted well. American Car and Foundry shortly after the opening climbed to above 125.

Rails were affected by rumors that New England roads had reported unsatisfactory conditions to the interstate commerce commission.

Several industrial sold off sharply. Crucible steel dropping five points. The market was irregular, some stocks, holding their early gains in the face of renewed selling.

DROPS 1,000 FEET IN 60-MILE GALE

Copenhagen.—Miss Sylvia Boyden, English flying girl didn't want to disappoint 10,000 people who had turned out to witness her airplane-parachute jump, so, in spite of a 60-mile-an-hour gale, she went up 1,000 feet and made the leap. She was in the air less than two minutes and drifted at the rate of nearly 60 miles an hour. She succeeded in dodging a forest, tall buildings, high tension wires, a railway and a river and finally landed in a marsh, unharmed.

URGES DELIVERY OF MILK BY MAIL
TO CUT H. C. O. L.Fourth Assistant Postmaster
General Says Carriers
Can Deliver Bottles.

(By George B. Waters)
Washington.—Save millions of dollars daily to milk consumers by delivering the product by parcel post. This is the advice of James I. Blakeslee, fourth assistant postmaster general. He says it is feasible to let the postman carry milk bottles from the dairy farm to the urban consumer.

By this plan, Blakeslee says, dairy farmers could receive from one to two cents more per quart for milk, thus encouraging them to produce more of this best of all foods, and that the consumers could buy milk for from three to four cents less than they are now paying.

The Present System
The present plan in distributing milk in large cities is to concentrate it in a central point in the rural regions, transport it by milk trains to the city terminal station, from whence it is moved by truck to the various creameries and treatment stations. These creameries distribute milk in overlapping territory at enormous expense.

Blakeslee's plan is for rural carriers to move the milk in the producing regions to the concentration point, transport it to either a private or public treatment station in the city, the distribution still to be in the hands of the postoffice. It could be shipped in cans and bottled and distributed to a list of customers, or individual bottles could be sent by the farmers direct to their customers.

Blakeslee produced figures showing that in one city the customers pay 21 cents a quart for milk and the farmers get 9 cents maximum.

The parcel post rate in that same city would be one cent a pound or two cents for a quart of milk. Blakeslee says milk and other foods are as important as mail, and the department could give it special attention.

How It's Possible
Blakeslee points out most of the mail equipment now is used from about 7 a. m. to 3 p. m., and that it could be used from midnight till 7 a. m. to distribute milk with very little additional expense except for labor.

There are now 60,000 employees of the postal service who traverse 140,000 miles of highways, through producing territory in this country, every day. With larger vehicles and better roads each carrier could transport 2,000 pounds, Blakeslee figures, or a total for all of 120,000,000 pounds of food daily. This would feed 60,000,000 people, or three-fifths of the population.

"By all means let us use our post office facilities to reduce the high cost of living, and thereby really serve the people," pleads Blakeslee.

CITY NOISE MAKES
GOTHAMITES CRAZYNew York Health Commissioner
Starts Movement to Stop Noisemaking.

(By Lorry A. Jacobs)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—American people who live in the larger cities are in grave danger of going to the lunatic asylums in larger numbers or landing in hospitals if they don't stop making so much noise. So says Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York City.

Dr. Copeland is inaugurating a campaign to stop noisemaking in New York City, which he says is the noisiest city in this country although all of the larger cities are great offenders.

"Noise which constitutes a nuisance to a person of normal sensibility to sound as to materially interfere with the ordinary comfort of life and to impair the reasonable enjoyment of his home is to him a nuisance," declares Copeland. "If such noise is unusual and disturbing and regularly and persistently made and if it affects the comfort of a man's household or the peace and health of his family, a court of equity on his application may afford him a remedy."

Under the present laws, says Dr. Copeland, the following may be dealt with as public nuisances: street noises and noises resulting from the conduct of trades and businesses or otherwise emanating from private buildings.

"Human constitutions were never made to stand the devastating inroads of nerve-debilitating noises that pry on our waking hours and disturb our sleep."

SERVE MEALS AT ELLIS ISLAND AT COST OF 17 CENTSHotel Men Declares Meals Served to Immigrants Are Excellent.

New York—How would you like to be able to dish up a good dinner for your whole family, Mrs. Housewife, at the cost of from 17 to 25 cents per person?

Well, D. T. Magowan, who has charge of the buying of food that is served to thousands of immigrants at Ellis Island daily, has accomplished just that thing.

Hotel men from all over the country went over to the island with Immigration Commissioner F. A. Wallis to sample one of Magowan's meals. The verdict is unanimous—great grub!

The bill of fare for the 17-cent breakfast that day was: Boiled rice, stewed prunes, coffee, and bread and oleo. Supper—Lamb hash with green peppers, blackberry jelly, tea or coffee, bread and oleo (also 17 cents).

At a great long table, covered with brown paper, this is what was served at the noon dinner:

Egg bowl of beef soup with barley. Irish stew with vegetables.

Third of a pound of whole wheat bread.

Butter.
Salt and pepper.
Tapioca pudding.
Coffee.

This was also one of the 17-cent meals. In the 25-cent class a more expensive kind of meat, potatoes, a side dish of vegetables and pie are served.

Magowan, who has a three-year contract to feed the immigrants, showed us through his whole food plant. Efficiency and cleanliness describe it in a nutshell.

His office contains a few old desks and chairs. Girls were making out bills of fare for the days to come.

Clean as a new pin
Everything was spic and span in the kitchen. Cooks wore white overalls, coats and hats. Waiters and waitresses were spotlessly clean. One felt almost like wiping off his shoes and keeping his hands in his pocket as he entered the refrigerators where sides of corned steers, milk-fed veal, lamb and mutton hung.

The Secret
Efficiency and large quantity buying is the reason for these "cheapest meals." During October over 160,000 meals were served on the island. Leading firms send in bids for groceries, meats, etc., and the lowest bidder gets the contract. New bids come every month.

A crew of 85 make up the day and night shifts under Magowan.

Children are allowed all the milk and crackers they want and the night matron gives out milk free to mothers or women in delicate health.

At one time Magowan's father was worth $2,000,000. This amount dwindled away in speculation and Magowan went into the restaurant business.
